

THIS WORLD OF OURS
People and Things

SPRINGFIELD, N.Y. — John Gerrity wondered today how to make repairs to the foundations of his home and diner which slid into the excavation for a "do-it-yourself" fallout shelter.

Gerrity's wife, Dora, said her husband "doesn't like war because he had been under bombardment during the Second World War," so he paid a contractor $400 to dig a 40-foot hole between their home and a diner they operate for a fallout shelter.

Her husband, she said, had planned to build the shelter in his spare time with concrete blocks at an additional cost of $700.

"It just didn't pan out. First the kitchen floor gave and then the bottom fell out of our house," she said. "Now we're stuck with the egg."

Mrs. Gerrity said the contractor began to dig three days ago and the "catastrophe" occurred on the following day.

"When the kitchen floor gave," she said, "our freezer where we keep all the food for the diner slid into the hole. My husband was able to pull it up with a rope. All our utensils also fell into the shelter excavation which was by then 14 feet deep."

She explained that Gerrity had planned to use the shelter when completed as a storage room for the diner so that if a nuclear bomb dropped "there would be plenty of food for everyone in the shelter."

Mrs. Gerrity said her husband was building the shelter for their seven children and two upstairs tenants and for anyone who might be "stuck" in their diner if "it should ever happen, God forbid."

She said a consultant who viewed the damage said that "12-foot walls must now be built to prevent the house and diner from completely sliding into the hole. She said it would cost from $2,500 to $3,000."

VILLERUPT, France — Eighty miners staging a sit-down strike at the bottom of an iron mine here got support from their wives on the fifth day of their strike Saturday. The women said they are prepared to take their children and join the men in the mine.

OKHAMPTON, England — High on a windy peak 12 people sat down, closed their eyes and raised their hands toward the planet Venus.

That is the way, they said, to rid the world of the threat of nuclear war.

They tramped through bogs, heather and across rocky outcrops Sunday to the summit of 2,028-foot Yes Tor to make their weekly obeisance to the planet—and the friendly people they say live up there.

"It will combat evil energy in the world and prevent future warfare," said Peter Lawless, a 32-year-old salesman.

He and the others are members of the Atherius Society, who say they can "absorb the goodness" which beings on Venus direct toward Yes Tor. The society is making a big push now because of the Soviet nuclear weapon tests.

"Their evil influence has already been made manifest by meteorological disturbances like the Tristan de Cunha upheaval," Lawless said, referring to the recent volcanic eruption on the south Atlantic island.

All the members are old hands at flying saucers. "I was in one once over Christchurch," said Lawless' wife, Joan.

"I've seen hundreds," Lawless said nonchalantly. "The mother of one of our members has travelled in them several times. She visited Venus in one."

NEW YORK — Mike Colantuona, 22, paced his Eighth Avenue tattoo parlor gesturing furiously with arms that emerged from an undershirt inscribed with skin paintings. "We'll go underground," he threatened. "All the boys say they'll go underground."

His threat was part of what could be the death throes of tattoo parlors as legitimate businesses here. The health department has ordered all parlors closed by Nov. 1. "I'll be tattooing Nov. 2," said Mike.

"I think tattoos do the city good," said his brother James, 26. "How many guys the FBI caught from tattoos? How many people we helped by covering up scars?"

"WEAKER" and less alert was the report today on House Speaker Sam Rayburn from the Dallas Hospital where the 78-year-old Democrat is ill with incurable cancer.

Partridge
Funeral
Wednesday

Frank H. Partridge, one of the busiest letter writers in Victoria and a champion of many causes, died in Royal Jubilee Hospital Sunday.

Funeral services, conducted by Rev. Angus Cameron of Lundavra, will be held in Hayward's funeral chapel Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. followed by cremation.

Mr. Partridge, a native of Egremont, Cheshire, England, wrote literally hundreds of letters to newspapers, and a great many of them appeared in the Victoria Times.

He was president of the Victoria branch, Canadian Citizens' League; a member of the Britannia branch, Canadian Legion, and a proponent of many different movements, political and otherwise.

He was a tireless enemy of Russian Communism, which he described as "Imperialist dictatorship."

FORMER ATHLETE
He was a singer, an ex-soccer player, a handyman who kept a basement workshop and an amateur collector of antiques.

His son, Frederick H., was killed while serving overseas with the RCAF in 1943.

Mr. Partridge is survived by the widow, Lydia, at their home at 1604 Belmont; a son, Donald, in Seattle; two grandchildren; one brother, Arthur, in Victoria; an aunt, Miss G. Anderson, Victoria. He also leaves relatives in England.

PLUNGES INTO RIVER

BELGRADE (Reuters) — Thirty-nine persons were feared dead and 13 were injured today when a bus plunged off a mountain road more than 60 feet into the swollen river Lim near Titovo Uzi, southwest of here. First reports said all 52 persons aboard were Yugoslavs. Twelve passengers and the driver escaped through a broken window.

Hammarhjold was the personification of peace efforts by the UN in seeking the freedom of American fliers from Red China, a cease fire between Israel and Egypt in the Middle East and an end to violence in the Congo.

KNOWN AS MODERATE
For the past nine years, Luthuli, 62, has headed a moderate resistance to this white supremacy movement. He was barred from all political activity in March, 1960, in the wake of the Sharpeville riots in which many Africans were killed. The government acted after he burned his passport, noted symbol of racial segregation, in protest.

SOVIET

It was the 22nd Soviet nuclear explosion reported since the Russians resumed nuclear testing Sept. 1.

Premier Khrushchev told the 22nd Soviet party congress in Moscow last week the current Soviet test series would be concluded at the end of the month with the explosion of a 50-megaton bomb.

Khrushchev said the Russians also have a bomb equal to 100,000,000 tons of TNT but would not explode it.

In London, a government spokesman said Britain has received reports of "very large disturbances indeed."

Iain Macleod, Conservative leader in the House of Commons, said a senior member of the cabinet would make a full statement on the subject as soon as more information became available.

"We do not know if this is the 50-megaton explosion or not," Macleod said in reply to questions.

Luthuli generally is considered the most influential of the anti-apartheid leaders in South Africa, although he is criticized by both the government and the native leaders. The latter consider his campaign for equal treatment of whites and blacks too moderate.

it can be avoided," he said. "We hope that ratification will come before that election."

"I am sure there is basic agreement among our Canadian neighbors" of the treaty except for differences between the federal and provincial governments on downstream power sales to the U.S.

Teno Roncalio, chairman of the U.S. section of the International Joint Commission, said the Columbia River treaty is not perfect but does represent a classic document entered into and characterized by the "absence of selfish striving and rigid nationalistic positions."

"Both nations were conscious of the fact that the total cost of construction and other enterprises contemplated will be much less than the cost of less satisfactory projects which would be undertaken independently by each country."

"A renegotiation is out of the question. The treaty was drafted after 16 years of thorough, exhaustive, unhurried preparation and negotiation."

"Any major alteration now simply would reopen the whole subject matter without assurance there ever might be a timely and successful conclusion," Roncalio said.

AGED RED MARSHAL DISAGREED

'Be Quiet,' Voroshilov Told

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Ex-president Kliment Voroshilov was reported to have been told to keep quiet today when he tried to defend himself against charges before the 22nd Soviet Communist party congress.

The 80-year-old marshal, a member of the Soviet Union's disgraced "anti-party group," tried to interrupt a speech by Dmitri Polyanski about Voroshilov's alleged complicity in prewar military purges, Communist sources said.

Voroshilov was still sitting in the party presidium section, despite reports that delegates unanimously support demands that members of the "anti-party group" be ousted from the party.

Polyanski, premier of the Russian federation, told of Voroshilov's alleged role in the anti-party plot of 1957 four years after the death of Premier Josef Stalin.

The chairman of the meeting, barred to non-Communist journalists, was said to have told old Bolshevik Voroshilov to keep quiet.

Official details of the speech were not immediately available.

Hoffa Launches
$1 Million Suit

DETROIT (AP) — James Hoffa and his Teamsters Union filed a $1,000,000 libel and slander suit today against AFL-CIO President George Meany and 24 other top AFL-CIO officers.

The suit, brought by Teamsters President Hoffa in U.S. district court, charged Meany with trying to "lie and steal away" members of the Teamsters Union.

Meany and the co-defendants, the suit said, conspired to portray Hoffa as "perpetrator of a fraud upon the American labor movement."

This was done, the suit added, as a "smoke screen to conceal the true picture of the defendant, AFL-CIO, as a tottering house of labor which has all it can do to keep its own ranks from falling to pieces."

'STEWARDS FOR UNBORN MILLIONS'

'National View' Urged
On Resources Conference

MONTREAL (CP) — Governor-General Vanier said today the first national conference on renewable resources offers promise of sound collaboration and planning in building a better future for Canada.

Officially opening the six-day conference in Montreal, the governor-general said: "We are called upon to exercise forethought in an attempt to control our destinies. It is our imperative duty to manage our renewable resources."

He told delegates from the 10 provinces: "You are architects planning now for future generations. You are stewards on behalf of unborn millions."

Resources Minister Dinsdale said this may turn out to be "the most significant conference in the history of our young nation."

The 700 delegates heard Governor-General Vanier formally open the week-long discussions on conservation problems and then Mr. Dinsdale, chairman of the federal-provincial committee which has spent three years setting up this historic conference, explain what it is all about.

"For the first time in Canadian history all 11 governments have come together to carry through a national project of self-appraisal of policies and actions in the resource field," Mr. Dinsdale said.

He stressed that the conference must take a national view, not one of purely federal, provincial or regional interest. The aim was "a better tomorrow."

Mr. Dinsdale said the discussions are aimed at practical solutions to the problems which plague agriculture, fisheries, water, wildlife, forestry and regional development.

"We are determined to do more than just talk," he declared.

SEEKS NATIONAL POLICY

A blueprint for a national development policy was the chief hope of the conference planners, one which would benefit every Canadian.

"Such a policy can only be hammered out in this type of conference where we refer to not just a federal development policy but to a national policy," he said.

The federal resources minister noted that resources fall into the provincial field of jurisdiction. But he suggested it is time to look at natural renewable resources from "the vantage point of the nation."

Only then could the full potential of such resources be revealed and promoted.

Delegates from the provincial and federal governments, along with experts from business, industry and the universities, will settle into workshop sessions Tuesday to thrash out the solutions to more than 20 distinct problems affecting natural resource fields.

Chief among them are air pollution, water pollution, the problem of urban encroachment on agriculture, protection of fish and wildlife, forestry and the explosive growth of outdoors recreation.

PREDICTS 'JOINT ACTION'

Mr. Dinsdale emphasized in his keynote address that the conference is not trying to interfere with the provincial control of resources.

But he said that some of the problems of resource management may have to be settled by "joint action," obviously referring to some kind of federal-provincial control. "Out of this need for common action may be born a new institution—possibly a secretariat or a national council for resources development. I don't want to anticipate in any specific way, but I submit this is an indication that we are not just here to talk.

Tonight another keynoting speech is to be delivered by Prime Minister Diefenbaker, his last formal function in the country before leaving Tuesday on a week's visit to Japan.

With Lightner in car is Albert E. Hemming, press spokesman for the U.S. mission in Berlin. American soldiers were sent in to free Lightner, whose car had been held up by East Berlin police.

U.S. Troops 'Escort' Official in E. Berlin

(CP From AP-Reuters)
BERLIN — Gen. Lucius D. Clay today blamed Communist East German police for "irresponsible and illegal behavior" causing an incident on the border involving U.S. troops.
President Kennedy's special envoy in Berlin spoke up after a squad of U.S. troops twice marched into East Berlin Sunday night with bayonets fixed to escort Allan Lightner, top state department official in Berlin. East German police had held up Lightner's car. The East Germans did not try to interfere with the U.S. troops.
The U.S. soldiers were backed up by Patton tanks that moved up to the border. The tanks stood guard through the night but were withdrawn this morning. East German police at the border were re-informed.
Friedrichstrasse, where the incident occurred, is the only place the Communists now allow the Western allies to cross into East Berlin.
The behavior of the East German people's police, "created the incident and forced the United States to send a military escort into the Soviet Sector to assist the U.S. minister on exercising his right of free entry and free movement in the Soviet sector," Clay's office said in a statement.

PROTEST EXPECTED

Protests were expected from the Communists.
It was the first time armed U.S. troops have entered the Communist sector of the divided city since the border was sealed by the Communists Aug. 13.
Lightner drove up to the East German check point with his wife. The East Germans demanded to see his papers but he refused on the ground that Allied personnel have a right to go into the Communist zone without being subjected to border controls.
Lightner demanded that the East Germans get a Russian officer. At the same time four U.S. M-48 tanks arrived on the scene.
Then a U.S. officer marched across the border with eight military policemen armed with rifles and sidearms.

UNREST CONTINUES

Trujillo Family Fleeing in Yachts

CIUDAD TRUJILLO (AP) — The Trujillo family's two pleasure yachts today were reported ferrying members of the family into self-imposed exile from the strife-torn Dominican Republic.
Gen. Jose Arismendi Trujillo, a brother of the late generalissimo Rafael Trujillo, was reported to have boarded the luxury yacht Presidente Trujillo during the weekend and headed for some Caribbean port, presumably Martinique, to catch a ship for Spain.
The four-masted sailing ship Angelita was reported en route to Bermuda to pick up another brother of the assassinated dictator, Gen. Hector B. Trujillo. Europe was believed to be their destination.
But despite continuing unrest and the possibility that the 31 years of Trujillo rule might be drawing to a close, there was no indication that the generalissimo's son—Gen. Raphael Trujillo Jr., chief of the Dominican armed forces—had any intention of fleeing. Both he and President Joaquin Balaguer had rejected opposition demands to leave.
Rock-throwing mobs continued to battle police in at least two provinces, and at least one man was reported killed about 120 miles north of Ciudad Trujillo.

An inter-American human rights commission arrived Sunday and was greeted by a noisy anti-U.S. and pro-Castro demonstration apparently organized with government approval in an effort to discredit the country's political opposition groups.

One of the demonstrators identified himself to reporters as a member of the official government party.

Even though the government has repeatedly warned it would permit no display of support for Cuban Premier Castro, the police made no move to interfere with the crowd. Demonstrators arrived and left in a fleet of taxicabs and chatted amiably with policemen.

During the anti-government outbreaks that have rocked the island for the last six days the police have shown no reluctance to use clubs and guns to break up demonstrations.

BRITISH PAPERS RAP U.S. PROJECT

Consultation on Space Urged After 'Cluttering'

LONDON (Reuters) — British newspapers today urged machinery for international consultation of the scientific space program in wake of the far-flung protests by scientists over the U.S. "needles" satellite.

The scientists accused the United States of "cluttering" space by the launching Saturday of a satellite to scatter some 350,000,000 copper needles in a belt around the world.

The belt was designed to enable radio signals to be bounced half-way around the world.

The Times of London said the U.S. experiment now seemed less "high-handed" than it first appeared.

It pointed out that in the later stages of preparing for the experiment a committee of the International Astronomical Union was in touch with the U.S. National Academy of Sciences about the project.

The Times said such consultation would have been better when the project first was planned. But the paper commented:

"More important in the long run, the way has been opened for consultation in advance on the form of future experiments; the International Astronomical Union has made its points."

HAD NO OPTION?

The Daily Telegraph noted the absence of international co-ordinating machinery and said perhaps "the Americans had no option but to go ahead on their own."

"But," he added, "this very absence becomes more alarming every day."

The Telegraph said "the world is far too small to be able to afford anarchy in the space surrounding it."

"A society which is capable of total destruction depends for survival totally upon order and the rule of law—not least when its feet are farthest from the ground."

Professor Guglielmo Righini, director of an astrophysical laboratory at Arcetri, Italy, called for an investigation of U.S. assurances that the needles would disperse and not remain in orbit. He said he opposed the project because it might set a dangerous precedent.

The Russian newspaper Pravda reported the project under the headline "U.S.A. dirties space."

Fred Hoyle, professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, told reporters the "needles" experiment was "a major intellectual crime."

"It is exactly what I have always felt about the space program — that the astronomers were being used as a facade of respectability for an essentially military project."

The Crown and Mr. Manson

MR. A. M. MANSON, RETIRED judge of the British Columbia Supreme Court, says he was wrong about the law of flats when he was attorney-general but is right now. Only the Lieutenant-Governor, not the cabinet, he argues, can issue or refuse a fiat enabling a citizen to sue the government.

About the fine print of the law we don't attempt to pronounce, but in constitutional practice Mr. Manson's theory makes no sense at all. As he held when he was the Crown's first-law officer, any public policy must be based on the advice of the cabinet, or otherwise the Crown becomes the government and the parliamentary system, slowly constructed through several centuries, is completely changed.

Mr. Manson, as we understand him, argues that the issuance of flats is not a matter of public policy but is reserved exclusively to the Crown, acting without the advice of the government.

If that is what the law says, no government in British Columbia has obeyed the law. Nor did Mr. Manson when he was the government's chief legal adviser. And if that is what the law says, the sooner it is changed the better.

For clearly the decision to issue or not issue a fiat in such a dispute as the B.C. Electric expropriation is indeed the highest sort of public policy. If a government cannot decide that question under the existing law it is no longer a government. It has abdicated its functions to the Crown.

If the Lieutenant-Governor were to issue or refuse a fiat, against the advice of the cabinet, then he would have to dismiss the cabinet immediately, having lost confidence in it. Then the Crown, instead of acting impartially on the advice of its ministers, who take responsibility for all its acts, would be dragged into partisan politics.

In constitutional terms the right of the government to issue or refuse a fiat cannot be challenged without a fundamental change in both policy and law. The law as it stands is a bad law, the policy iniquitous. The Legislature should have acted long ago to change both.

No government should have the power to refuse any citizen the right to sue it. The federal government no longer has that power, having wisely abandoned it. Some provinces also give the citizen the right to sue without question. But British Columbia maintains the obsolete principle that the right to sue is a matter of grace, to be granted or withheld as the government may decide.

Though many aggrieved citizens may have been injured in the past when the right was withheld from them (as Mr. Manson sometimes withheld it), the public showed no interest in the subject until the present government expropriated the B.C. Electric, without arbitration of price, and then refused to open the courts to the aggrieved parties.

If this outrageous denial of ordinary justice moves the Legislature to change the law it will have served at least some useful purpose. The public will hardly understand Mr. Manson's fine-spun legal theories, which now contradict his former actions, but it will understand that a great wrong has been done by the government.

Auf Wiedersehen

IT IS NOW ALMOST FIVE years since Premier Bennett made what he described as "the most momentous announcement of my life"—the deal turning over 40,000 square miles of British Columbia heartland to Dr. Axel Wenner-Gren and his associates, including the Premier's alter ego, Mr. Einar Gunderson. In order to provide a fitting welcome to the international financier (who had been blacklisted by Canada and several other countries for his wartime association with the Nazis), the Premier tendered a provincial reception and banquet at the Empress Hotel, to which The Times was invited.

As faithful readers may remember, The Times refused the invitation. In a front-page editorial, this newspaper said that it refused to do honor to the notorious Swedish gentleman. It scoffed at his promises to provide a monorail which would churn up the Rocky Mountain Trench at speeds of 180 miles an hour. It pointed to the collapse of other Wenner-Gren promotions. It questioned the financier's claim that he was doing all this for philanthropy. It suggested that the Premier had been bedazzled by the eminent Doctor's clippings.

Now, almost five years later, this view has been confirmed by a Social Credit member of the legislature.

Speaking to a luncheon meeting in Vancouver last week, party whip Bert Price confessed that the Bennett government has been "taken in" by Wenner-Gren.

Precisely what happened behind the scenes when the Premier swallowed the Peace River Power Development Company on August 1, has not been disclosed. It is an open secret that the British partners Wenner-Gren had gathered around him—in what one cynic called "Operation Air-Wick"—were furious. Their fury will doubtless be assuaged to some extent by payment for their survey work, estimated at some $10 millions. This would seem to most observers adequate payment for a firm which enjoyed seemingly endless extensions pursuant to its default of deadlines on paper promises.

At any rate, Dr. Wenner-Gren has departed and Premier Bennett has come around to the view originally enunciated by this newspaper in 1957. "The most momentous announcement" of his life has ended up a damp squib. We trust that the Premier has learned something from the experience.

Every Man for Himself

IN LAUNCHING ITS 350-MILLION-needles project into space the United States has made a colossal blunder in cold war tactics, if not in space science.

The purpose of the millions of tiny copper wires is to create a band around the globe, some 2,000 miles out in space, against which radio and other signals may be bounced for transmission to any point on earth. The purpose may be sound, but scientists in most countries have deplored the scheme as threatening to clutter up space, interfere with experimental and practical explorations of our space environment, and create an impediment to further research.

But regardless of the value or danger of the needles band, its creation at this particular time, when the whole world is loudly protesting Russia's pollution of the atmosphere with radioactive fallout, is incredibly foolish.

There is no comparison, of course, between fallout and the copper particles—the latter can have no physical effects on the earth's living creatures. But to launch the material into space, and against the repeated advice of scientists in friendly countries, puts the United States in a position of supporting the principle that anyone can do anything in space that he likes, regardless of the protests or rights of others.

Such a principle of devil-take-the-hindmost is now being followed by Russia. The unilateral action of the United States has helped to relieve the Communists' propaganda position, and weakened the West's protests. President Kennedy was badly advised to permit it.

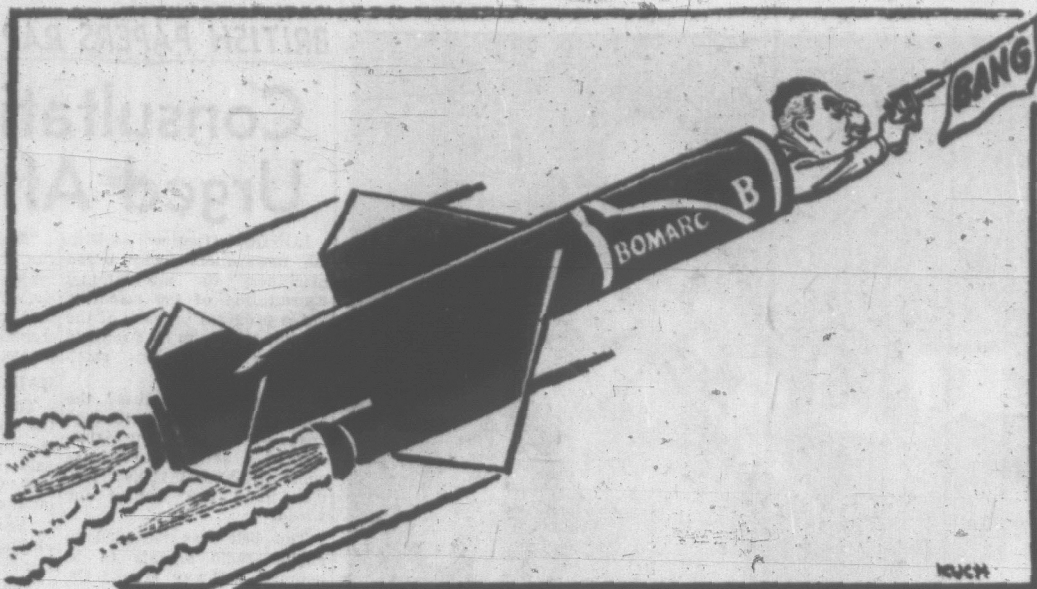

The Full Price

ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT resolutions passed by the recent Liberal Party convention here seems to have been largely overlooked in the rush. In the brief, it declared that a vendor who sells anything on credit must disclose to the purchaser, at the time of the sale, all the finance charges involved, including the total amount and rate of interest.

A bill enforcing this disclosure was introduced into the Canadian Senate last spring but was defeated. Four British Columbia Liberal senators voted against it. In effect, their position has been repudiated by the Liberal party in convention.

Of course no senator is bound by the views of any convention but perhaps the Liberal senators from British Columbia will have second thoughts if and when Senator Croll reintroduces his bill.

At any rate, most Canadian citizens will see no reason why they should not know in advance exactly what an article, purchased on the installment plan, will cost them when all the interest charges are paid. The wise purchaser will insist on knowing but too many people sign contracts without realizing what they involve. Such purchasers, as Senator Croll says, need the protection of the law.

THE BURNING QUESTION OF BOOKS

Censorship: Protecting What Against What?

By B. A. TOBIN

THERE'S another flurry in the papers about book censorship. This time the chief worry seems to be how the police should enforce the censorship, rather than the fact of censorship itself. We are more worried that doors must be opened to searchers than that minds must be closed to ideas. But the search problem is a much simpler one than the mind problem. You can draw a line as to where police may search and where they may not. But where do you draw the line as to what may be read and what may not? Or should you draw a line at all?

Tobin

As with most questions that stir the emotions, people tend to get much more worked up about specific examples than about principles. And the reality of the examples tends to be quickly lost in symbolism—the symbolism of names. Ask whether the Decameron of Boccaccio is entirely fit for popular reading and your audience may hem and haw. But ask about Lady Chatterley's Lover and denunciation will pour from red faces. The reason is that Lady C's L has become a button which you press to produce righteous indignation and disgust. The content of the book doesn't matter much any more; it is the title which provides the stimulus.

I like the picture of the elderly lady in Britain who, so a news item said, burned the Chatterley book in a public street as her protest against the sins of the world.

"What parts didn't you like?" she was asked. Horrified, the book burner replied that she hadn't read any of the disgusting thing and certainly didn't intend to.

She wasn't burning a book so much as she was burping SEX. But probably no one thought to phone for a psychiatrist as well as a fireman.

Much of censorship may work the same way, even when it is exercised by a government department. The law can only lay down certain directives; it cannot specify each publication. So implementation of the law must in the end depend on some human being's interpretation of it, and there should logically be as much variety in the interpretations as there is in the minds of civil servants or governmental ministers.

It is very doubtful if governmental censorship of books does any good. A competent novelist, for instance, doesn't think of much in the way of sex that anyone else doesn't think of. He merely presents it in a more interesting or artistic manner. So that what you really prevent by censoring his book is not the importation of his ideas—which everyone shares anyway—but of his writing ability.

Nothing New

It may be true that incessant reading of sexy novels can influence a young mind. But anyone who would incessantly read sexy novels must incessantly want to think about the subject anyway. The reader in all probability isn't contracting a new obsession but merely gratifying an existing one.

There may be a better argument for censorship as regards time. Some books obviously would be safer for the reader, and more enjoyable, if the reading were postponed for a while. But censorship on this individual basis is a task for parents, not for the federal government.

These remarks apply, of course, to writing that has any claim to being literature, or even passable yarns. There remains the other frequently denounced material—the pathetic flossam and jetsam of sub-literary wrecks which float in from time to time. These are the cheap publications which depend on "dirty" words and lurid pictures for their communication with moronic readers.

Automatic Cut-Off

How can such drivel affect any but those who read it, and how can they be much affected? Who could long stand the unutterable boredom of sustained filth? It is at once its own satiation and its own antidote.

To create the principle and enforce the edit that one human being shall say what words and combinations of words another human being shall read is too great a price to pay for the small and doubtful gains of governmental censorship.

We may as well take it for granted that all human beings think about sex, and in all its various ramifications. The more important consideration seems to be: what else do they think about? And that's where parents, schools and even governments can take a positive line, instead of the negative one of censorship.

Never Put Off...

If the promises of Khrushchev are indication, discontent among the Russian workers must be rising. Mackenzie King in this part of the world used to be an artist with his "in the near future," continuing promises to pacify the workers.

Khrushchev with his 20-year utopias now goes to the top of the class. However, if the Russian working class really had Socialist knowledge they would not be put off by their dictator's meagre promises for the distant future, but would realize that social democracy is possible now and would want it.

No Compensation

You report the Hon. L. B. Pearson as saying in his address to the convention that: "No government has the right to confiscate any man's property by arbitrary procedures without appeal." That is exactly what the Liberals did when Boss Johnson was Premier of B.C. and the Trans-Canada Highway was being constructed on the Island.

We received a registered letter stating that 6.38 acres of our land would be taken and "no compensation allowed." We wrote the then minister of highways for arbitration but got no reply. My husband came to Victoria to interview the Premier who referred him to the secretary Percy Richards. Percy was a personal friend but said he could do nothing.

At no time did the minister contact us. When we attempted to prevent the work crews from trespassing the police were sent to intervene and the minister said on the air that he wouldn't prosecute us. What magnanimity! What generosity!!

Oct. 23, 1901—Sir Redvers Buller has been relieved of command of the First Army Corps and placed on half pay for his speech answering critics of his attempts to relieve Ladysmith.

Oct. 23, 1921—Emergency gangs are working desperately to rescue two miners trapped in a new shaft at the 23,000-foot level in the Britannia Mine.

Oct. 23, 1941—Conservative leader R. L. Maitland sent a proposal for a cabinet representing all parties in the B.C. legislature to Premier Pattullo and CCF leader Harold Winch as a solution to the stalemate election two days ago.

They took the money we had paid for the land, they took the money we had paid for taxes over a period of eighteen years, and they took the land and we got nothing. How about that, Mr. Pearson?

I notice there is some criticism of the idea that the B.C. Hydro building should be taken over as Victoria's new city hall on the basis that it is a hand-me-down.

However it might well be that the hydro structure will serve in a temporary capacity until the solons of the four municipalities finally decide that Victoria's future lies in amalgamation and then we can build a city hall of which 33,000 people can be justly proud.

Wasted Training?

Last year two special classes were formed, made up of above-average students entering grade 7, at S. J. Willis and Esquimalt Junior High Schools. These students were to be kept together through to grade 12, for an experiment in mathematics similar to that which has been going on in the United States for three or four years. The idea was to begin early to train these young minds to think and figure out complex problems instead of doing ordinary mathematics.

This year, however, they got only one of their special work books from a reluctant school board. When that is completed, they will continue on with regular mathematics, and apparently the end of next June means the end of these special classes. Is this because the emphasis is now on the giving of special assistance to the slower pupils?

With the advances being made now in all fields of science, and considering the state of the world today, is it right or proper to give up these special math classes? If just one of these students became a credit to Canada would it not be worth all the years of training the others too?

Last week the Times quoted Dean S. N. F. Chant as saying "We cannot afford to let those of lesser ability be a constant drag upon those of greater ability."

If Dean Chant truly believes this, and if our pupils are to be taught as he has decreed, then why has he not said that these special math classes must continue? Now is definitely the time when those "of greater ability" should be given special training but it would seem that this is not to be so. If last year's training is to be wasted and forgotten, I wonder if Mr. Chant could tell us why.

Improving the Breed

Since I have been one to criticize your poor coverage of horse racing events in the past seasons, I should like to make amends right here and now.

For many days I have been thinking of letting you know how much I appreciated the excellent coverage of the Sandown meet not only for the pre-race entries, but for the form chart after the race.

I was particularly pleased with the "color" comments by Hal Malone, who showed sufficient interest to dig into some behind-the-scenes incidents which are of much more interest to the fan than whether a horse paid $3.20 or $3.90. The spark that actually fired-up this letter was the fact that you gave due heed to the feat of a Canadian horse, Fair Juro, breaking another Canadian horse's world record.

WASHINGTON:

Derelict Ship

By WALTER LIPPMANN

WE ARE at the beginning of Act Two of the Berlin crisis. The Western allies must try to find a negotiating position on which they can agree. It will not be easy to do this. For in West Germany, in France, and in the United States there are powerful and passionate opponents of any negotiations that involve concessions on the part of the West without any corresponding concessions by the Soviet Union. To make one-sided concessions will, they insist, undermine and destroy the Western alliance, and cause the whole structure of the anti-Communist world to collapse.

Lippmann

It is quite possible that the intransigents will prevail in the sense that Bonn and Paris will be able for the present to impose a veto upon Washington and London. The German press is crying out that President Kennedy is preparing to betray Germany, and the West German Foreign Minister has made it known that in the view of his government there are no negotiable points.

Over all this there hangs the threat that if there is a negotiated settlement, the West cannot be sure of the West German commitment to the Western alliance. The real issue, it is being said in high quarters, is not about West Berlin but about West Germany.

State of Shock

No doubt, these hysterical cries about betrayal must not be taken too grimly and too literally. For the Germans are in a state of shock. For the first time after years of soft promises and self-deception they have to face the realities of the partition of Germany.

What they are crying out for now is that we must refuse to negotiate about anything so that they may go on for a while longer to dream that as a leading member of the Western alliance they will eventually liberate and absorb Eastern Germany.

It may be that by going to the brink of thermonuclear war we can gain some time for the West Germans to turn over in bed and have another nap. Nobody can know what are the odds on thermonuclear war if there is no negotiation. But they may well be 50-50 or a little better, that even if we refuse to negotiate, Khrushchev will not make a warlike move such as interfering physically with existing access routes.

Quite possibly, he may not be ready or willing to play Russian roulette in Berlin. Those who want to gamble with stakes which are infinitely large have a hunch—it is not more than a hunch—that the pistol is not loaded.

These hunches could be right. It is possible that Khrushchev would draw away from war even if we refuse to negotiate with him. But where the intransigents cannot be right is in the notion, which is at the heart of the matter, that if nothing about Berlin is changed by negotiation, nothing will be changed about Berlin.

Radical Fallacy

This is the radical fallacy of the so-called hard-boiled school. They do not realize that the status quo in West Berlin has already been changed radically by the action of August 13, when the wall was raised. By standing firm and refusing to negotiate they cannot go back to the situation which existed before August 13.

West Berlin has now ceased to be what it was in the Adenauer era, the symbol of German reunification under the aegis of the Bonn government. It has ceased to be a show window to East Germany of the affluence and freedom of West Germany.

Unless some kind of future for this half-city is provided by negotiation, West Berlin will be a derelict ship which is running out of fuel and has lost its rudder.

That is why it is untrue to say that in a negotiation about West Berlin we can only lose and can have nothing to gain.

Those who say this do not realize what happened to West Berlin on Aug. 13, and they imagine that West Berlin is still what it was in the best days of the Adenauer-Dulles partnership. The truth is that West Berlin today is a stricken city without a future, and to negotiate is not to surrender what we have but to bargain for much that is necessary and that we do not have. What we do not have is a viable future for West Berlin.

Better Deal

We cannot have a viable future for West Berlin unless we can negotiate a contractual agreement with the Soviet Union. If we can negotiate it, which is by no means certain today, it will not be a surrender. It will be the achievement of something which will be a good deal better than what exists today and may be a good deal better than what existed before August 13.

If successful negotiation can be carried out, the West Germans must cease to cry out that any negotiation will be a betrayal on our part, and to accompany it with an overture of threat that this might release them morally and politically from their allegiance to the West.

We are not betraying the Germans and, despite the hysterical talk, we must continue to have confidence that the Germans will reciprocate.

Be yourself; do not pretend to be different from what you really are; be serious, concentrate, study, be willing to work hard. Jobs for the Disabled

As many a crippled person has learned to his great sorrow, there are very few employers who will give him a job. Many a disabled man has a haunted employment office for six months or more, hearing only the polite evasion—"When we have a place we'll send for you."

Years ago, after the Second World War, a man named Henry Viscardi, Jr., who was born with only stumps of legs, but was eventually fitted with good artificial limbs, decided to devote his life to the helping of people who, like him, had a serious physical handicap. He found that a disabled veteran could get a pension, but that was not what the man wanted; he wanted a job.

He could not bear to sit around all day, year after year, doing nothing. Besides, he wanted the joy of work; he wanted to marry and to have a family and then to support that family. He wanted the great joy of pocketing each week a pay cheque; he needed a paying job to keep his self-respect, but nobody would give him one.

And so, years ago, with four badly disabled men, Viscardi started a little shop in which the workers sat at benches and assembled electrical equipment. They did such excellent work that the plant grew and grew. The other day, when I went out to Albertson, Long Island, I found a big factory with 400 happy people, all hard at work assembling electronic equipment such as goes into airplanes.

I had luncheon with that fine man, Hank Viscardi, Jr.; his fine, kindly physician, Dr. Yanover; his publisher, Mr. Eriksson, and several of his top helpers. Then I went through the factory and met many of the fine, remarkable persons whose life stories are told briefly in that inspiring book—just published—by Mr. Viscardi. It is called "A Laughter in the Lonely Night" (Paul S. Eriksson, N.Y.).

Alvarez

In this book Mr. Viscardi tells of something very important that I noted and felt as I went through the big workshop, and this is the happy spirit in the place and the love Hank has for the people who work with him as his partners. One of the merriest faces I saw was that of a man who walks on stumps of thighs and has no hands—only short forearms. One can imagine how little chance that chap would have of ever getting a job in an ordinary manufacturing plant, but in "Abilities, Inc." he is foreman in the important packaging department and is doing an excellent job.

Another man with a smiling face keeps the cost-control books. He has to lie on his back on a specially-built apparatus on wheels. He cannot sit because, after a terrible accident in the war, his body became so ossified it cannot bend in the middle. But Hank tells me he is invaluable—and so it goes throughout the plant. People may be badly disabled but if their spirit is right, and they have manual dexterity, they can do much valuable work each day—sitting at a bench.

One of the most thrilling and moving experiences of my life was to meet these people and to watch them at work—doing an excellent job, earning standard wages and earning the right to be accepted and respected in their communities, like the good, useful citizens they are.

Now Hank is hard at work trying to convince employment managers all over the world that cripples make the best and steadiest and most devoted workmen. They are rarely absent, they rarely have an accident, and they are so happy to have a job—especially in a place where there is love and understanding.

When I was in Albertson, I found Hank finishing a big, million-dollar addition to the factory—an addition in which there will be baths, a gymnasium, a swimming pool, massage tables, and every facility needed for strengthening the bodies and improving the health of the employees. Would to God that we had more citizens as useful and as fine as Hank Viscardi; I will always treasure his friendship.

HOME GARDEN

By HILDA BEASTALL

'Cosy Part' of the Day's Work

A satisfying garden job for a chilly day is the cutting down of perennial plants which have finished flowering.

Some have such woody stems that it is best to burn them as they are cut. A small bonfire (first securing a burning permit, if needed in your district) can be a cosy part of the day's work at this time of year. The smell of wood smoke appeals to the primitive in most of us.

The woodiest stems are probably the perennial asters, or Michaelmas daisies, and unless they are cut into short lengths for the compost pile they take a long time to decompose.

Where plants still have green leaves as in young delphiniums, kniphofias (Red-hot-pokers) and hemerocallis (Day-lilies), the leaves should be left to complete their work. Remove only the old flower stems.

Many perennials have made a rosette of new leaves during the last few weeks, and these are found clustered close to the soil—thus their name of basal rosettes. Leave them untouched, but cut down the old stems which rise above them.

Plants which have this habit include geum, gaillardia, cen-othera (Sun-drop or Evening primrose), artemisia and even some of the lupins.

GREAT QUANTITY

Anything which can be cut into small lengths should be set aside for composting, for none of us ever have enough of this valuable product of the garden. It will be amazing the quantity which can be collected at this time of year.

Only the tough things, or prunings with stiff thorns (blackberry and rose) should be burned. The ashes, when thoroughly extinguished, may finally be added to the compost layers or stored in a pail and kept dry for use in spring along the onion rows, or around the plants of the dianthus family.

Algeria Peace Hopes High

PARIS (Reuters) — Prospects of settlement between France and the insurgent "Algerian provisional government" to attain peace in Algeria have improved, French government circles said here Sunday night.

Tourist Injured

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A San Francisco cable car revolving on its turntable at the end of a line Saturday knocked down four women and injured three of them, including a Canadian tourist, Mrs. Jessie Kirland, 48, of Vancouver, suffered a cut on her forehead. All three women were treated at Harbor Emergency Hospital and released.

"They based this view on a statement in Tunis by insurgent Information Minister Mohammed Yazid who said the only formula guaranteeing the future of Europeans in Algeria consisted of the two peoples living fruitfully together in an independent state. He also said that no action would be conducted against Europeans during an "organized and disciplined" move by Algerians beginning Nov. 1 to convince Europeans of his principle. The date marks the seventh anniversary of the Algerian insurrection.

Sources close to the insurgents in Tunis said an "important initiative" would be announced on Tuesday "which will tend in the direction of negotiations."

Mr. Employer:

Have your employees all 4 of these important benefits

...in the program which you have provided for their security?

LIFE INSURANCE—An adequate amount of protection for the family is more easily provided when group life insurance, with its low cost, is combined with individual policies, to make up the employee's insurance program.

COMPREHENSIVE HEALTH INSURANCE—This coverage is available both to employees and dependents, and affords protection against the heavy costs of serious or prolonged illness, in addition to normal medical expenses. Under this plan, up to $10,000 may be paid in the case of a single illness.

WEEKLY INDEMNITY INSURANCE—When an employee's earnings are cut off because of a spell of illness or an injury—then weekly indemnity insurance steps in to help pay household bills, and meet other current expenses.

PENSION BENEFITS—For the day of retirement, every employee wants assurance of a pension which will help him to live independently, comfortably, and without money worries. The London Life's varied and flexible pension plans are being more and more widely used to provide the needed income.

The London Life Insurance Company has been providing group life insurance plans since 1919, and the group life insurance in force now exceeds one billion dollars. This Company was the first Canadian life insurance company to issue group sickness and accident benefits, and today is one of the leaders in Canada in providing this form of coverage.

The London Life has group insurance offices across Canada, staffed with trained group insurance representatives to provide service to employers and employees.

Complete information about group benefit plans may be obtained through any of the London Life's 94 agencies. If your plan does not include the four important benefits described above, a telephone call to your local London Life office will bring a qualified Group Insurance specialist to you immediately.

Two Girls Perish In Blaze

KAMLOOPS (CP) —

Two children died Saturday night when fire destroyed a home at Clearwater, about 50 miles north of here.

Dead are six-year-old Rhonda Gray and Linda Gray, 4, daughters of Mrs. Ruby Gray of Clearwater.

The children's mother managed to escape the flames by leaping out a window. She later attempted to re-enter the house, but was driven back by the flames.

Mrs. Gray was later taken to hospital suffering from shock.

RCMP said the fire occurred when a coal stove exploded.

Mrs. Gray was a housekeeper for Alex Henderson of Clearwater. Mrs. Gray's husband is working in Saskatchewan.

Henderson was not at home when the fire broke out.

Woman Killed

PRINCE GEORGE — A 48-year-old man was being held here by police in connection with the Saturday night death of a woman at Upper Fraser, a small sawmill centre 50 miles east of here.

The man was apprehended after police were called to the scene by neighbors. The woman apparently died from heavy blows to the head.

Police identified the woman as Hazel Cousins.

Sawmill Burned

TRAIL — Police, aided by a tracking dog, Sunday began an intensive investigation at the site of a sawmill 10 miles north of here, which was destroyed by fire during the weekend.

RCMP here said the fire was deliberately set. It destroyed a $20,000 mill owned by Hadikan brothers, located along the Trail-Castlegar section of the Southeastern Transprovincial Highway.

Police said a bulldozer was driven into the side of the main buildings and a logging truck used to damage another. A light vehicle, with its ignition system ripped out, blocked the only entrance to the mill and harassed fire-fighters going to the mill.

Hit by Fire

QUESNEL — Two fires were reported here Sunday. A barn, 3,500 bundles of hay and 35 tons of seed oats were destroyed in an early morning fire on the Fred Bartel farm north of here. The second fire destroyed the home of Len Huff at Six-Mile Lake west of here. Huff and his family were not in the home when the fire occurred. No one was injured in either blaze.

Swans Shot

VANCOUVER — Three rare, protected whistler swans were shot during the weekend in Surrey and Langley districts. Wildlife officials said 13 of the birds flew into the area with high winds. Several were taken to the Stanley Park Zoo by residents.

To Check Tape

VANCOUVER — Highways Minister Gagliardi, back from a trip to Japan, said Sunday he wants to listen to a tape recording of statements attributed to him by a radio station before commenting on a report that he is thinking of resigning.

After he left for Tokyo Oct. 12, radio station CKNW quoted Mr. Gagliardi as saying he was thinking of quitting his post. The reporter said the minister made the remark in a tape-recorded interview.

The station said later the interview was private and fired the reporter for reporting it.

Hit by Car

MATSQUI — Joseph Banas, 69, of Matsqui, was killed early Sunday when hit by a car while walking along a road near his home. The victim was killed outright.

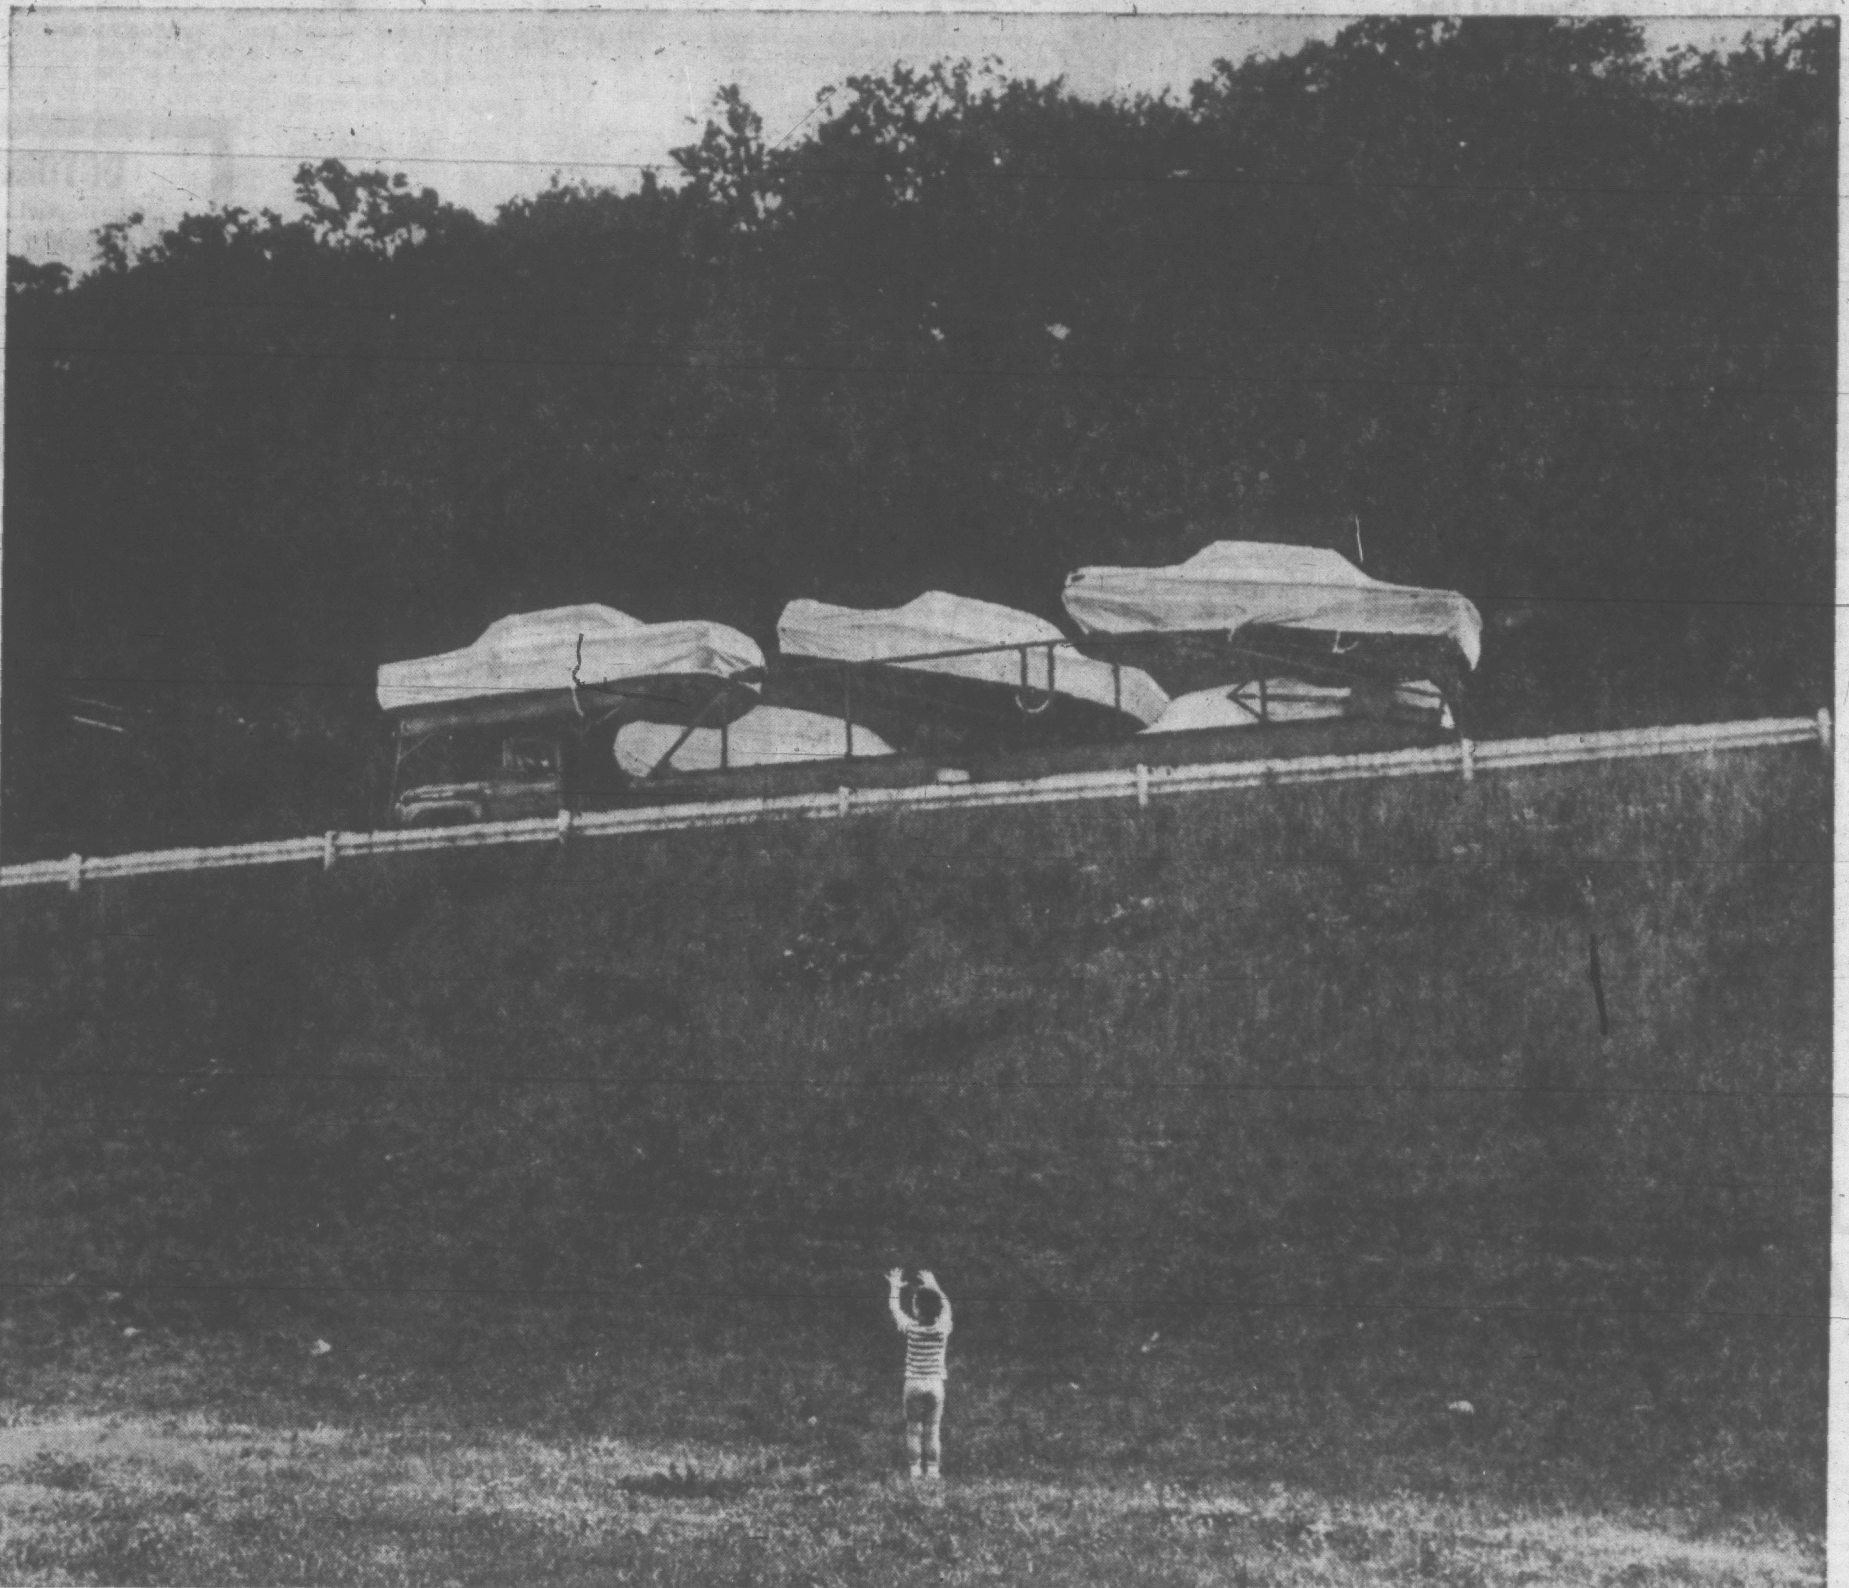

Money for Airport

VANCOUVER — The department of transport will spend $300,000 in the next year developing a private plane airport at Pitt Meadows.

Dr. Thomas G. How, D.O.T. regional director of air services, said $50,000 will be spent during the winter to provide a water supply, sewage and equipment facilities on the site.

Another $250,000 will be spent next spring grading the former farmland and laying gravel and grass runways.

Dr. How's announcement signalled the first definite step taken in a three-year-old secondary airport battle that had left the D.O.T. undecided between sites at Pitt Meadows and Boundary Bay.

Super Shell's TCP helps keep the power and mileage of your car as good as new.

NEW CARS:

These 1962 cars could deliver top performance with only 8 of Super Shell's 9 ingredients. But they'll very soon need the ninth. Do you know why?

If car engines could stay clean as new, they'd get along fine without Shell's TCP additive. But harmful deposits start building up the moment your car leaves the showroom—and can soon cut your power and mileage. TCP works to keep that from happening. Here's how.

THE ENGINE of every car on the road has combustion chamber deposits. Nothing can stop these deposits from forming. They're the inevitable result of combustion.

If your car has only a couple of thousand miles on it, you probably won't know the deposits are there. But once they've built up, they can be rough on performance. Fortunately, something can be done about that. And Shell's unique TCP additive does it.

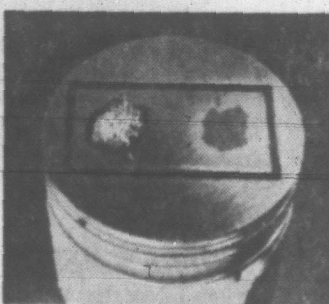

How deposits cause trouble:
Here's what can happen inside your engine. When certain combustion chamber deposits get hot enough, they can beat spark plugs to the punch and ignite the fuel themselves.

These premature explosions are called pre-ignition. They give your pistons a terrific hammering. Your power falls off. And so does your mileage.

Deposits can also form right on spark plugs, short-circuit them—and take them right out of the act.

They don't ignite the fuel. The fuel doesn't burn. And you get a miss. Instead of purring smoothly, your engine falters—and costs you money.

How TCP prevents trouble

New aviation-grade TCP in today's Super Shell gasoline alters these combustion chamber deposits chemically.

It "fireproofs" them so they no longer glow red hot. And it helps keep them from conducting electricity—so that they won't short-circuit your spark plugs.

Result: top performance.

And as a little extra, TCP can help spark plugs last up to twice as long.

NOTE TO OWNERS OF OLDER CARS: TCP can improve the performance of many older cars. Tests have shown that it helps to restore power lost to harmful combustion deposits—and can add up to 17 miles per tankful.

9-ingredient formula

TCP is just one of Super Shell's nine ingredients. To get an idea of how all nine contribute to top performance, run your eye over the list at the right.

Winter Blend Coming

As temperatures drop across Canada, two ingredients in Super Shell's nine-ingredient formula are adjusted for top performance in cold weather:

1. A special compound is added to reduce stalling caused by "carburetor frosting" in cold, wet weather. 2. Super Shell's Winter Blend contains more butane, the eager ingredient that vaporizes even in zero weather to help you have fast starts on cold mornings.

Here are the 9 ingredients in Super Shell—and what they do to give your car top performance

- #1 is TCP* for power, mileage, and longer plug life.
- #2 is mixed pentanes for fast warm-ups.
- #3 is anti-knock mix to resist all kinds of knocks.
- #4 is heavy alkanes to control "high speed knocks."
- #5 is butane for quick starts.
- #6 is "cat-cracked" gasoline—for extra power.
- #7 is an "anti-icer" (added in cold weather).

Exports Climb To Asia, Europe

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's markets in continental Europe, Asia and Latin America provided the spark for record export sales of $1,377,600,000 in domestic products during the second quarter of the year.

The gain was 7.7 per cent over a year earlier, reported today by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, more than compensated for a sales lag in the first quarter.

Exports of domestic products for the first half of the year reached a peak of $2,606,100,000, up 2.6 per cent from $2,540,000,000 in the first half of 1960.

Counting re-exports of foreign merchandise, total exports in the six months rose to $2,672,700,000 from $2,602,200,000.

Domestic exports to the United States, though gaining in the second quarter, remained below last year's levels. Shipments to the United Kingdom and other Commonwealth countries, which had risen in the first quarter, were considerably less in the second.

But domestic exports to all other countries during the second quarter jumped 57.6 per cent above year-earlier levels to $362,000,000. For the first half of the year, exports to these markets were up 35.8 per cent to $640,800,000.

There were big sales gains to West Germany, Italy, Japan, Communist China and several Latin American countries including Cuba.

Communist China, with big grain purchases, ranked as Canada's fifth-largest export market after the big four of the U.S., Britain, Japan and West Germany.

Among commodities, wheat showed the largest increase, with lesser gains for newsprint, wood pulp, nickel and crude petroleum.

Six-Month Total Down 6.7 Per Cent

Domestic exports to the United States in the second quarter were $738,073,000—close to year-earlier levels—but the six-month total was down 6.7 per cent to $1,382,843,000.

Shipments to the United Kingdom declined 8.3 per cent in the second quarter to $206,420,000, and the six-month total was down 1.8 per cent to $425,363,000.

Domestic exports to other Commonwealth countries totalled $71,000,000 during the April-June quarter, down 16.3 per cent. Over the first half of the year, however, exports were 2.1 per cent higher than a year earlier at $137,000,800.

Shipments to Japan in the first half advanced 34.2 per cent to $105,258,000. Wheat accounted for nearly half of the sales.

Exports to Communist China jumped to $54,843,000 in the six months from $6,100,000 a year earlier. Wheat sales totalled $40,600,000 and barley, at $13,400,000, accounted for most of the remainder.

Exports to Cuba more than tripled for the six months to $15,381,000 from $4,839,000—much of the gain being in wheat flour and wood pulp.

Ontario Liberal H. Nixon Dies

HAMILTON (CP)—Harry Corwin Nixon, 70, who served the longest term in the legislature and the shortest in the premier's chair in Ontario history, suffered a heart attack while driving Sunday night and died.

For close to 42 years he was a member of the legislature. At his death, he was Liberal member for Brant riding.

After six years as right-hand man to Liberal premiers, Mr. Nixon was named premier May 18, 1943, but served just three months before making way Aug. 17 for a Conservative government under George Drew after general elections stripped the Liberals of power. He was the last Liberal to be premier.

Major Crime Shows Big Increase in Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Serious crime surged sharply upwards in Canadian urban centres in 1960.

In communities with a population of more than 25,000, serious crime cases increased by 12.6 per cent over the previous year.

Big increases were recorded in the number of murder, breaking and entering, theft and robbery cases reported by police departments. A large proportion were in the two cities of Montreal and Toronto.

Crime statistics for 1960 were issued today in a report by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. However, the bureau noted that the information published left much to be desired in the way of completeness and uniformity.

The report listed a total of 118 murders in Canadian urban centres with populations of more than 750, compared with 91 in 1959. Among large cities, there were 23 murders in Toronto, 18 in Montreal, six in Vancouver and four in Edmonton.

ROBBERIES UP

Robberies in 1960 totalled 3,237 compared with 2,877 the previous year. The figure included 879 cases in Montreal, 762 in Toronto, 320 in Vancouver, and 115 in Edmonton and Winnipeg.

The number of thefts increased to 39,299 from 144,999. Toronto listed 33,277 thefts, Vancouver 14,212, Montreal 13,265 and Edmonton 8,072.

Breaking and entering of fences increased to 50,112 from 45,360. Of these 8,138 were in Toronto, 4,933 in Montreal, 4,698 in Vancouver and 2,216 in Winnipeg.

The report showed a fluctuation in sex crimes. Offences of indecent assault on females increased to 1,567 from 1,405, but rape offences declined to 250 from 321.

Toronto recorded 350 indecent assault offences, Edmonton 109, Winnipeg 87, Hamilton 70, Vancouver 51 and Montreal only 8.

However, 42 rape cases were listed in Montreal, compared with 26 in Vancouver, 25 in Toronto, 16 in Winnipeg, 10 in Edmonton and only 3 in Hamilton.

Job for Socred Launches Anti-Patronage Campaign

VANCOUVER (CP)—A. L. B. Clark of Kamloops has been returned to office as president of the B.C. Government Employees' Association.

Mr. Clark was elected Saturday as the association wound up a two-day convention during which it criticized the provincial government for what it called patronage appointments and promotions to senior civil service posts.

Mr. Clark first took office as president last May when Dave Block of Nanaimo retired to take a permanent staff position with the association.

T. J. Ritchie of Duncan was elected first vice-president, David Lyttle of Victoria is second vice-president and N. J. McAskill of Vancouver is treasurer.

BASE OF MERIT

Delegates approved a resolution asking the association executive to negotiate with the civil service commission to assure that future appointments and promotions are based on merit.

Delegates from Woodlands

School branch told the meeting that a blatant example of patronage was the appointment of Walter Smith as superintendent of public works in the Kamloops area.

The association said Mr. Smith, a former carpenter and one-time vice-president of the British Columbia Social Credit League, was appointed to the job by a government order-in-council despite protests of the Civil Service Commission that he lacked qualifications for the appointment.

The Woodlands group said Mr. Smith was rejected by the commission when he failed to pass a job test, but that he was kept on the list of applicants at the insistence of the government.

The delegates said there was strong evidence to suggest that patronage had been given to the appointee of a management job in a mental hospital. Most examples of favoritism, however occurred in the rank-and-file civil service posts.

The convention also approved a move to ask civil servants to pay 40 cents a month to enable the association to join the Canadian Federation of Government Employee Associations, which Mr. Clark said would provide uniform representation of provincial civil servants across Canada.

The BCGEA also voted to urge the provincial government to grant a Monday holiday where statutory holidays fall on Saturday.

Dead weight (that's automotive fat) has been trimmed away. What's left is lean-wiry muscle. That's how Dodge gives you action and economy in the same automobile. It accelerates seven per cent quicker and gets five per cent more miles per gallon than last year's Dodge. It goes twice as far between oil changes—drives 32,000 miles between grease jobs. Its brakes adjust themselves automatically. The body is rustproofed. There's more leg and kneeroom up front, more headroom in the back. Seats are chair high and deep sprung. There's never been any car like the 1962 Dodge. Drive it. AT B.C. LABOR MEETING

Repressive Law, Jobs, Big Topics

VANCOUVER (CP)—Unemployment, restrictive labor legislation and political action are expected to hold the spotlight here during the four-day sixth annual meeting of the 100,000-member B.C. Federation of Labor (CLC) which opens today.

More than 400 delegates and visitors are expected to crowd into the convention hall today for the first session at which Bob Smeal, federation president will sound labor's stand in his opening address.

Many of the delegates will also attend the New Democratic Party inaugural convention in B.C., which follows the close of federation meetings.

Delegates will consider more than 30 resolutions during the four-day session. These will seek federal and provincial action on unemployment problems, a repeal of "restrictive provincial labor" legislation, a shorter work week or day, longer paid vacations and guaranteed annual wage.

The convention is expected to approve full support of the New Democratic Party, call on the federal government to "take the lead" in seeking total and universal disarmament and to go on record as being against testing of nuclear weapons.

TO STUDY EDUCATION

Delegates will consider resolutions supporting free education for all in public and high schools, colleges and universities and provincial government aid in the training of displaced workers.

The convention also is expected to demand provincial legislation requiring employer groups to post bonds to provide security for wages of its employees and amendments to current statutes to insure that overtime permits will be granted companies only in cases of actual emergency.

Vancouver Shows Best Gate Gain

SEATTLE (AP)—Attendance was up 15,096 in the Pacific Coast Baseball League this year by comparison with 1960.

Tacoma again led the league, despite a loss of 26,234 from its 1960 figure. The turnout count for the season in Tacoma was 243,790. The biggest gain—55,865—was noted in Vancouver.

The disaffiliation of 11,000 members of the Government Employees Association and 2,000 members of four other unions will also be studied. As well affiliation requests from several unions will be considered.

The federation's labor legislation committee will seek support of a report calling for a minimum wage of $1.25 for all industry, lowering the statutory work week to 40 hours from 44 and continuing support of court action now under way to test the constitutionality of Bills 42 and 43.

Bill 42 requires all unions to sign statutory declarations that checkoff dues will not be used to underwrite political action programs and Bill 43 prohibits information picketing and establishment of secondary picket lines.

'ORIENTALS ON MARCH' —GAGLARDI

VANCOUVER (CP)—Highways Minister Gaglardi said Sunday Canadians "will have to get on the ball if they don't want to be out-manoeuvred" by Japan.

Just back from a trip to the Orient, the minister said he was deeply impressed by the vitality and "fantastic industrial development" of Japan.

"The Japanese are industrious and ingenious and will stop at nothing in the way of work," he said.

"The Oriental people are on the march... we're in a highly competitive market.

"If Canadians and Americans think they can let down in any way, they're wrong. We must not think that we are God's chosen people because we're Canadians. We have to earn our bread and butter, earn our place in the sun."

Ticats Knock Als Out of Grid Race

The Eastern Football Conference playoff race tightened up during the weekend but nothing was settled except that Montreal Alouettes are out.

Sunday's 15-5 defeat at the hands of league-leading Hamilton Tiger-Cats left the Als six points behind Toronto Argonauts, 21-7 victors over Ottawa Rough Riders, Saturday, with only two games remaining.

The Ticats' win gave them a four-point margin over the second-place Riders and guaranteed them a share of first place—but not a bye into the final. Ottawa, only a single point ahead of Toronto, can still catch the Ticats with two victories combined with a pair of Hamilton defeats and in that event would get the nod by virtue of having defeated the Tiger-Cats in all of their three meetings.

It's Ottawa at Hamilton next Saturday and Montreal at Toronto Sunday. The schedule winds up the following Saturday with the Argos back in Ottawa and the Tiger-Cats in Montreal.

The Argonauts, left for dead after a 37-10 trouncing by Hamilton the previous week, marched into the capital Saturday with a revamped lineup and a couple of their brightest stars on the sick list. They came up with their best-balanced attack of the season and never gave the 18,589 Ottawa fans much hope.

Defensive ends Gerry Patrick and Dick Potts doubled on the offensive line as blocking guards to beef up the Toronto running attack, which netted 182 yards to 138 for Ottawa, Toronto had the edge in first downs, 18 to 14, while Tobin Rote clicked on 12 of 18 passes for 179 yards, compared with 9 of 21 and 184 yards by Russ Jackson and Ron Lancaster.

FUMBLES HELP TICATS

Hamilton's first Sunday game was largely a dull toe-to-toe defensive battle for the 22,723 spectators. The Tiger-Cats couldn't break it open until the final quarter with the help of two Montreal fumbles.

'YOU HAVE TO START SOMEWHERE ...'

Esquimalt Forms Junior Puck Club

JOE IANNARELLI TO COACH

Because Joe Iannarelli believes "you have to start somewhere," junior "A" hockey is scheduled to come to the Victoria area this winter.

Iannarelli, manager of Esquimalt Sports Centre, announced today that the municipal arena will definitely form a junior "A" club for the current hockey season.

Decision of Esquimalt to support a club has ended a period of uncertainty that has lasted since last spring, when it was announced that managers of several arenas were backing plans to organize a junior "A" league in the B.C. coastal region.

Spurring hopes that Victoria would be able to ice a team were reports that a National Hockey League club had offered $1,000 this season and $3,000 for each of the following three years to assist a Victoria squad in a junior "A" league. It is not known if the offer applies to the Esquimalt club playing exhibition games.

It was not until last week that the Victoria Minor Hockey Association officially abandoned plans to enter junior competition, bowing out because of expected heavy expenses and the belief of officials that there was a shortage of available player talent.

Iannarelli, who had held several workouts for prospective players, moved quickly when he learned of the Victoria decision and today was able to announce the formation of an Esquimalt team.

"I was told there wasn't sufficient interest or talent in this area," said Iannarelli, "but I have received a lot of interest since I mentioned the possibility of a junior team," Iannarelli plans to arrange and have the co-operation of a series of exhibition games the Navy, Army and Victoria New Westminster junior clubs.

JOE IANNARELLI aims for future

"I think there is enough talent to give us the nucleus of a fair club. I feel kids on this Island are great athletes. All they need to become fine hockey players is a chance to play."

"I'm not kidding myself into thinking we'll be able to match the calibre of junior 'A' clubs in other provinces," said Iannarelli, who hopes to obtain sponsors for the Esquimalt club, "but you have to start somewhere. We are aiming two years ahead and the only way we can protect our players is one in Victoria," says Iannarelli to go junior "A". As it is now, he'll have first call on all players in this area. If we don't start this year, we'll be Next practice for the Esquimalt squad of under-20 players is Tuesday, at 7 p.m., and Iannarelli stresses that the workouts are open to all interested juniors. "I would have preferred to see one team in Esquimalt and one in Victoria," says Iannarelli, "but I think it will come eventually. If we have a good Island junior league."

MARY STEWART SETS NEW BUTTERFLY MARKS

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mary Stewart, 15-year-old Vancouver swimmer, Saturday cracked the world record in the women's 110-yard butterfly event with a time of one minute, nine seconds.

The young Dolphin Club swimmer knocked a full second off the previous best recorded time of 1:10 flat, which she and Carolyn Wood of Portland, Ore., had turned in at separate competitions earlier this year.

Miss Stewart's time Saturday was 1.8 seconds better than the listed world record of 1:10.8, held by Dawn Fraser of Australia.

The Vancouver star swam against the clock Saturday at Empire Pool in a time trial sanctioned by National Amateur Athletic Union authorities in Canada.

En route to the world mark, she broke her own Canadian mark of 32.2 seconds for the 55-yard butterfly, finishing that distance in 31.2 seconds Saturday.

TOTEMS TRIUMPH

Battles Spice Portland Win

By Canadian Press
Portland beat Spokane 3-2 Sunday night in a brawling, penalty-punctuated Western Hockey League clash while Seattle downed Vancouver 5-2 in a run-of-the-mill contest.

Art Jones deflected a shot from the right of the net to give Portland the victory on home ice. The goal, early in the third period with Spokane a short man, broke a 2-2 dead lock.

The other Portland counters came from Arlo Goodwin and Tommy McVie. Bev Bell scored two for Spokane.

Portland's Jack Bionda and Spokane's Larry McNabb were whistled down for fighting in the second period. And with three starts, trimming San Francisco 5-2 in Calgary. The Buckaroos edged Seattle Totems 4-3 in Portland, and Los Angeles Blades, in Spokane, downed Comets 3-2.

Los Angeles sharpshooters were Doug McAuley, Gerry Goyer and Ralph Keller. Spokane's goals came from Steve Wittek and Max Mekliko. (Summaries on Page 11.)

Farmers Join Idle Vampires In First Spot

Farmers survived a mud-bath Sunday and today are rubbing shoulders with Vampires, their cross-town Victoria rivals, atop the Vancouver Island Junior Football League standings.

Farmers gained a share of first with the idle Vamps by edging Campbell River Raiders 6-0 Sunday.

A second-quarter touchdown by halfback Dave Sandberg gave Farmers their win in a game played in mud, wind and rain at Campbell River.

In other juvenile action Sunday, Nanaimo Redmen trounced Courtenay 40-21.

Vampires 6-0, 280-31-32
Farmers 7-6, 115-42-12
Nanaimo 6-3, 126-61-6

LOI RETAINS WORLD TITLE

MILAN (AP)—Dulio Loti of Italy retained his world junior welterweight boxing championship in a 15-round draw with Eddie Perkins of Chicago in their title bout in this Italian city Saturday night.

It's Easy to See Ed Varga Is Back

Ed Varga didn't waste any time in announcing his return to local hockey wars.

A standout in city commercial hockey leagues in past years who only recently returned to Victoria after playing and coaching in the east, Varga tossed out his patented calling card Saturday night.

He scored all the goals for Independents as the IAA crew blanked Port Alberni 4-0 in the opening game of the Vancouver Island Intermediate League.

1,400 FANS
A crowd of about 1,400 fans at Memorial Arena saw Nanaimo strike for three goals in the last three minutes to tie the Navy 5-5 in the second half of the season's opening double-header.

KELSO ROMPS AT 1-10

TORONTO (CP)—Our Jeep, ranked as one of the most versatile horses in North America, Saturday tipped to victory in the 24th running of the $60,000 added Canadian Championship over the grass at New Woodbine.

The four-year-old gelding, owned by John M. Schiff, New York City broker, won by a neck over the fast-closing favorite, Wolfgram, in the mile-and-five-furlong test. Time was 2:45.45, compared to the record of 2:42.15.

day, while demonstrating once more why he is considered one of the best race horses of all time.

Ridden by Eddie Arcaro, the four-year-old gelding from Richard Dupont's Bohemian Stable finished the long race five lengths ahead of Pete Fuller's Hillsborough. Eight lengths farther back came Peace Isle and far back in last place was Diehard II.

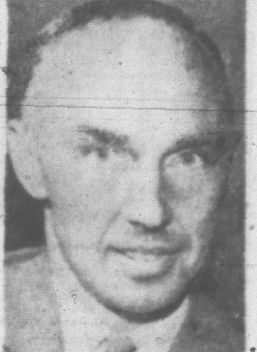

Only four started, each with 124 pounds. The crowd of 38,112 sent Kelso off a 1-to-10 favorite.

Kelso was timed in 3:25.4/5, far off the 3:19.2/5 track and U.S. record which he set in winning the Gold Cup last

Cowan Only Canadian To Collect Two Wins

MONTREY, Mexico (CP)—The United States ran up more than twice the points of its nearest competitor, Canada, to win the sixth American Cup amateur golf competition Sunday.

The final tally gave the U.S. 29 points followed by 14 for Canada and third-place Mexico with 11.

Gary Cowan of Kitchener, Ont., the 1961 Canadian amateur champion, was the only member of his team to score

'Small' Posts Cost United Possible Win

Victoria United, it has been said, has been suffering for want of greater goal production.

The inference also has been that manager Wally Milligan has had the odd problem and a few worries about his forward line.

Almost 1,000 fans came out Saturday for a first-hand look at Milligan's forwards, which included new recruits Volker Solt and Tony Major. United failed to score for the third time in six Pacific Coast Soccer League games, but some of those fans left with the opinion that Milligan shouldn't have any great problem any more.

Indeed, if there is a sore spot plaguing Mr. Milligan, it can't be his forwards. Instead, he can look at the goal-posts used in the Pacific Coast Soccer League.

They seem to be two feet too low and about that much too narrow.

Drakes Drubbed But Still Bouyant

Bloody but buoyant, coach-quarterback Jack Patrick today promised his Victoria Drakes "will be right in the ball game" next Saturday against the New Westminster Royals at Macdonald Park.

His exuberance showing, Patrick claimed Drakes did not play as badly as the score (New Westminster 28, Victoria 0) indicated Saturday at New Westminster.

"It could have been New Westminster 21, Victoria 14," said Patrick. "We gave them a couple of touchdowns, they earned one, and we missed two."

Nonetheless, Drakes must not only win Saturday—they must do it by more than 28 points. That is the task they face after dropping the first of the two-game, total-points B.C. intermediate football final.

Playing without Charlie Bishop, fullback, and Bob Coutts, tackle (crippled with leg injuries), Drakes lost half-back Ken Higgs on the first play. Higgs pulled a leg muscle, had to take an early bath.

The Royals obtained most of their points via Mike Davies, a former Winnipeg Blue Bomber. He scored two TDs, passed for the others.

No End in Sight For Tee Argument

The boys are in a rut, and what started out as a single challenge match seems to be turning into a regular weekly event for the district's leading golfers.

George Vale's Inter-Club League champions were challenged to a match by a team picked from the district's three other major courses. They halved the first match 4½-4½ on Oct. 14 at Gorge Vale.

They failed to settle the argument in the return bout Sunday at Uplands. Again, it ended in a 4½-4½ stalemate when George Vale's Art Donaldson and Dr. Bigelow of "The Rest" halved their meeting for the second straight time.

Bill Wakeham, Norm Boden and Dave Fanthorpe scored other points for Gorge Vale in Sunday's singles. Fanthorpe and Donaldson combined to give the Gorge its only victory in the best-ball foursomes.

Laurie Kerr and Vic Painter scored singles victories for "The Rest." Kerr teamed up with Roy Chappell for a two-up victory in the foursomes over John Merriman and Wakeham while Gord Pellow and Vic Painter claimed the other team point for "The Rest" by defeating Fred Painter and Boden on the 18th.

As for the argument, it continues. They plan to go into round No. 3 this coming Saturday at Royal Colwood.

Bears Pull Off Stunning Upset

A castoff quarterback, a rookie end and a magnificent defence hooked up Sunday for the most shocking upset of the 1961 National Football League season.

Chicago Bears provided the combination—with the offensive strikes led by quarterback Billy Wade and end Mike Ditka—to defeat San Francisco '49ers 31-0.

Meanwhile St. Louis Cardinals, with first-string quarterback Sam Etcheberry benched in favor of Ralph Guglielmi, blanked Washington Redskins 24-0.

Green Bay Packers beat Minnesota Vikings 33-7 to take over the Western Division lead with a 5-1 won-lost record. The '49ers and Bears are 4-2.

Philadelphia's league champion Eagles rolled up a 43-7 win over Dallas Cowboys and remained in a tie for first place in the Eastern Division with New York Giants, 24-14 winners over Los Angeles Rams.

BROWNS TRAIL LEADERS
Cleveland Browns stayed one game back of the eastern leaders by beating Pittsburgh Steelers 30-28 with the key aid of Lou Groza's three field goals. Baltimore Colts edged Detroit Lions 17-14.

Wade, let go by LA Rams, passed for four Bears' touchdowns, two of them to Ditka covering 47 and 15 yards. The '49ers, who had averaged 40 points in three previous games, used three signal-callers—Billy Kilmer, John Brodie and Bob Waters. But it was a fosing cause.

Guglielmi spearheaded the Cards with two touchdown passes.

He completed 15 of 22 aerials for 155 yards.

The Packers may have found a replacement for arm-bund Paul Hornung in hard-running Tommy Moore.

BIG FIELD GOAL
Moore averaged 9.9 yards in 16 carries after entering the game in the first quarter when Hornung, scheduled to report for active military duty Oct. 30, aggravated a knee injury.

Hornung, the league scoring leader, kept at his kicking duties. He booted field goals of 13, 18, 17 and 16 yards and three converts to run his point total for the season to 92.

Steve Myhra kicked a 45-yard field goal with eight seconds left in the game as the Colts drove from behind in the fourth quarter to beat the Lions.

WATCH BRODIES, HEANEYS

Gorge, Kickers Post Big Wins

Gorge Hotel is breathing down the necks of Hourigan's Kickers, the Victoria and District Soccer League pace-setters, but it might be worthwhile to keep a careful eye on two clubs still back in the pack.

They are Brodies Bakery and Heaneys, who Sunday battled to a scoreless draw at Heywood Avenue Park.

Brodies today share fourth place with Victoria West as a result of the tie. Heaneys are ninth in eighth place.

But they appear to be the corners.

Brodies' only loss to date came in the committee rooms at the start of the season. After the league took those two points away from the Bakers, they've been unbeatable. Ditto Heaneys, who lost their first two but since have been making the big jump up the league table.

Kickers maintained their one-point edge over Gorge Hotel by edging a surprisingly tough Ladysmith side 2-1 on a pair of goals by centre forward Mel Cooper.

Gorge, showing plenty of spirit for new manager Don Wakelyn, kept close by defeating Esquimalt 4-2. Duncan Rangers slipped to third when they battled to a 2-2 tie with Evcoes, who have shown improvement after getting Charlie Constable and Don Glass on transfers two weeks ago.

BUNYAN SAVES DAY
Rangers appeared on their way to victory until Evcoes veteran Maurice Bunyan tied the score late in the game.

In other games Sunday, Canadian Scottish tripped Nanaimo's youthful hustlers 3-1, and Victoria West, getting three-goal efforts from Les Stevenson and Howie Metcalf, broke loose for an 8-1 romp over Saanich Thistles.

Ray Won Bout But Not Fans

NEW YORK (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, the 41-year-old Mélinaleh of the ring, out-pouted baby-faced Denny Moyer of Portland, Ore., Saturday night in an action-packed 10-round bout in Madison Square Garden.

Robinson, who turned professional 21 years ago when Moyer was just a year old, won the verdict of all three officials, but not the crowd of 7,800 who jeered the decision.

Referee Barney Felix had the 159-pound Robinson ahead 5-3 and 2 even; Judge Bell Recht saw it 5-4-1 and Judge Johnny Bran had it 6-3-1. The Associated Press card had Robinson in front, 6-4.

Moyer, who weighed 157 pounds and is 19 years' Robinson's junior, made a good fight of it. He showed no awe for the five-time world middle-weight champion and was perfectly willing to mix it up right from the start.

There were no knockdowns and both fighters came out of the fray without a scratch. But Moyer did stagger Robinson with a right to the head in the fourth.

INDUSTRIALIST'S PLAN 'Rationalized' Production Asked in Canada

VANCOUVER (CP) — A national program to stimulate Canada's economic growth was proposed in a weekend interview here by E. P. Taylor of Toronto, one of Canada's leading industrialists.

Mr. Taylor, president of Argus Corporation Ltd., proposed:

1. Appointment of a minister of economic affairs, who would be second only to the prime minister and who would co-ordinate government economic policy in co-operation with industry.

2. Establishment of import controls on certain manufactured goods now on entering Canada from other countries.

3. Government permission for certain Canadian manufacturers to "rationalize" their production. This would allow companies engaged in a similar industry to parcel out the domestic market for certain goods so that each company specialized in production of only a few items.

Mr. Taylor said the minister of economic affairs is needed to co-ordinate policies now split up between several departments.

Import controls are needed because "we are importing all kinds of things from the United States that Canadians can make in Canada nearly as cheaply."

"Rationalized" production at present is forbidden by combines laws, Mr. Taylor said. At the same time, there were 18 companies manufacturing refrigerators in Canada, which were costly because the small domestic market was reflected in small production runs.

If the companies were to get together and agree that one company should manufacture refrigerators while another made stoves, then production costs would come down and United States manufacturers "wouldn't be able to sell here."

Canada and the U.S., he said are the only two countries without restraints on the movement of capital in the form of quotas or controls.

"I don't think we can afford that freedom," he said.

$1-a-Day Hospital Rate Up to 'Policy'

VANCOUVER (CP)—Health Minister Martin says any change in the present $1-a-day charge for hospital beds under the British Columbia Hospital Insurance is "a matter of overall government policy."

An increase in the present charge was suggested last week by the British Columbia Hospitals Association.

Asked to comment Sunday,

Mr. Martin said it was a policy matter. But he added: "It is a question of preservation of the principle of hospital insurance to protect the patient against the heavy cost of hospitalization."

The British Columbia Hospitals Association said an increase would enable hospitals to provide better treatment and service. The increase might be as little as 10 cents a day.

Consultants Taken Over By BCE

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia Electric has gained control of International Power and Engineering Consultants Ltd., the firm which handled preliminary engineering work on the Peace River power project.

B.C. Electric said in a statement today arrangements for the takeover were made with Balfour, Beatty and Company Ltd. and B.C. Power Corporation, parent company of B.C. Electric before it was expropriated by the provincial government.

Directors of International Power will include Dr. Gordon Shrum, chairman and president of B.C. Electric, and A. Bruce Robertson, chairman of B.C. Power.

500 'CARTED AWAY' IN BOMB PROTEST

LONDON (AP) — Police carted away more than 500 ban-the-bomb demonstrators Saturday during a sit-down protest near the Soviet Embassy against Premier Khrushchev's proposal to explode a 50-megaton nuclear bomb.

Students Collect $9,000

A group of 90 Oak Bay High School students canvassing for the United Appeal have collected $9,000 in cash and pledges in house-to-house canvassing.

The project grew out of a talk to a student group by Andrew Chatten, executive director of the Victoria branch, Canadian Mental Health Association.

Mr. Chatten, delighted with the results, terms the venture of community leadership training project.

The students reported a few householders slammed doors in the faces of the canvassers but the majority of people were kind and generous.

Police Stoned

BULAWAYO, Southern Rhodesia (Reuters) — Police were stoned, stores set on fire and looted and a newspaper office smashed by an angry crowd of Negroes here Sunday night.

The trouble started after a meeting of Joshua Nkomo's National Democratic party when a Negro was knocked down by an Indian motorist. No casualties were reported.

Cambodia, Thailand Break Off Relations

PHNOM PENH (Reuters)—The Cambodian parliament today unanimously decided to break off diplomatic relations with neighboring Thailand.

The resolution accused the Thai prime minister, Field Marshal Sarit Thanarat, of persistently "insulting our country" and said he "seeks to create conditions for an armed intervention against Cambodia."

Parliament ordered the nation and the army to take all steps to resist eventual aggression by Thailand and protect the lives of non-combatants. "In the case of the outbreak of fighting, apply immediately our law on neutrality which authorizes us to ask the aid of friendly powers, natural adversaries of our aggressors," the resolution said.

Relations between Cambodia, pledged to a policy of neutrality, and pro-Western Thailand, have been strained for several years.

One reason is a dispute over sovereignty of the ruined temple of Preah Vihear on their common frontier.

Cambodia claims that since 1949 Thailand has persisted in wrongful occupation of the territory which includes the temple, traditionally a place of pilgrimage for Cambodians.

COALITION APPROVED

Adenauer Set To Lead Again

BONN (Reuters)—Leaders of West Germany's Free Democratic party voted Saturday to enter a coalition with the Christian Democrats under Chancellor Adenauer.

The decision resulted in the resignation Sunday of Oswald Kohut, deputy chairman of the minority party.

The resignation was announced as the 85-year-old Adenauer appeared virtually certain of entering his fourth term as chancellor. But Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano's future seems in jeopardy.

Adenauer's victory, one of the most notable of his lengthy political career, came after the Free Democrat's national committee debated the coalition proposal for 10 hours Saturday night.

The committee issued a communiqué after its closed-door meeting that recommended the Free Democrat parliamentary group enter the coalition. But the recommendation was conditional. It demanded further negotiations on some points — particularly the appointment of a foreign minister satisfactory to the Free Democrats.

FUTURE AT STAKE

This statement appeared to leave at stake the political future of Von Brentano.

However, political observers here believed it would be extremely difficult to force Adenauer to drop Von Brentano, through whom he keeps an absolute grip on the nation's foreign policy.

Kohut, in his resignation statement said "those who bow to the will of an old man who, above all, wants to retain his power can take the responsibility for the curiously of a limited chancellorship and the renunciation of the foreign policy goals of the Free Democratic Party."

CANADA HOME FOR FRENCH ALGERIANS?

PARIS (Reuters)—The possibility that French settlers in Algeria may be helped to emigrate to Canada was raised here during the recent visit of Quebec Premier Lesage, it was learned Sunday.

Sources close to the government said there were no official talks on the subject when Lesage met President de Gaulle here October 4.

But authorities here understood that if the need arose the Quebec government would be willing to help a certain number of Frenchmen from Algeria to settle in Canada.

'We're Still Strongest' Russia Warned by U.S.

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—The United States military doesn't believe the Kremlin's claims of having a crushing superiority in nuclear power, Deputy Defence Secretary Roswell Gilpatric indicated on Saturday night.

"While the Soviets use rigid security as a military weapon, their Iron Curtain is not so impenetrable as to force us to accept at face value the Kremlin's boasts," he said.

Gilpatric, in a speech obviously prepared with the sanction of the White House and state department, said the U.S. "has a nuclear retaliatory force of such lethal power that an enemy move which brought it into play would be an act of self-destruction on his part."

He said the U.S. has 600 heavy bombers and many more mediums; six Polaris' submarines at sea with 96 missiles among them; carrier strike forces and land-based planes also able to carry atomic destruction. He said the total number of vehicles for delivering nuclear fire-power numbers "in the tens of thousands."

Beyond tallying U.S. strength, in general terms, Gilpatric did not go into detail on why he thinks the United States now is equal or better than Russia.

In Washington, State Secretary Dean Rusk, Sunday, stamped full government endorsement on Gilpatric's address.

"Mr. Gilpatric was making an official statement," Rusk said in a television interview. "It was a well-considered statement and it was based upon the facts... we are not dealing in the world these days from a position of weakness."

Rusk said he went over the talk with Gilpatric and discussed it with him before he made it.

A $15,000 city street sweeping machine sustained only minor damage Friday afternoon when it collided with a car at Shelbourne and Bay. Damage to the auto, driven by Mrs. Dorothy Gerson, 4429 Torquay, was also minor. The sweeper was driven by Alfred Barton, 90 Bay.

Logging Cut May End Year Near Record

One of B.C.'s best economic barometers, the provincial log scale, is showing an increasingly strong trend to finish 1961 close to the all-time record year of 1960.

Log production made a slow start this year, and in the early part of the season the volume was as much as 18 per cent behind that for a corresponding period in 1960.

It then began to gain. During the first eight months of this year production was 740,692,261 cubic feet, off 6.7 per cent from the scale in the same period a year ago.

5% BELOW

The latest report of the B.C. Forest Service, for August, shows the cut in that month was 90,134,516 cubic feet, or only 5 per cent below the matching period last year.

There has been a large increase in the volume of un-manufactured logs exported to the United States and Japan, which forestry officials say is indicative of "a higher degree of activity in domestic log buy-ing."

Record of Wrecks

NANAIMO — A Lantzville resident, Capt. H. L. Cadieux, has spent six years compiling a register of over 1,500 wrecks along the Pacific coast from the Columbia River to Bering Sea.

His register includes comprehensive accounts of each vessel, with the cause of wreck and in some cases photographs.

His library of wrecks is being recognized by historians as a valuable source of official information.

Skin divers are also finding the registry useful for locating wrecks.

COMMITTEES REPORT TO BOARD

More Room Needed at Fair

DUNCAN—Additional hall space to permit a larger number of entries for indoor exhibition was recommended by David Barr, hall committee chairman, at a recent meeting of the Cowichan Exhibition Board.

The meeting was called to deal with committee chairmen reports and recommendations, and business arising out of the September fair.

The board awarded $300 bonus to Mrs. Kathleen Mynkianias, exhibition secretary, for her untiring efforts and efficiency.

It also appointed Archie Stevenson as delegate to the B.C. Fairs Association meeting at Mission City on Nov. 6.

The board heard a report that two exhibitors in the junior division had three model cars stolen during the exhibition.

The remaining models on exhibition had parts missing and were damaged.

Miss Mary Waldon, president, said she was opposed to 4-H Club members selling raffle tickets on a "filly" during the exhibition, without permission. Mr. Stevenson said the matter could be dealt with by a letter from the board to the Cowichan-Cobble Hill 4-H advisory council.

Mrs. Jay Powley, photography section chairman, recommended an increase in the categories next year.

She said an important feature of the increased entries this year was due to exhibitors being invited to hear the judging on the evening previous to the exhibition.

Mrs. Powley suggested either the city's 50th anniversary or the municipality's 100th, be the theme of the 1962 fair.

She also would like to see an honorable mention or award of merit ribbon system introduced, especially in the chil-

CHINATOWN FIRE VICTIMS

Design Approved for New Home

NANAIMO — Design for a $57,000 building to house 24 elderly Chinese has been approved in principle by the directors of the Cathay Senior Citizens Housing Society.

The organization was formed after the September, 1960, Chinatown fire to help re-locate more than 200 Chinese made homeless by the blaze, most of them elderly men.

Numbers requiring accommodations appear to be decreasing rapidly because many have found satisfactory accommodation.

HORROR MOVIE BECOMES REALITY

Ceiling Crashes on Crowd Woman Killed, 45 Injured

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—A massive concrete ceiling collapsed with a thunderous roar and dumped a ton of debris onto a crowd watching a horror movie Sunday night in a small neighborhood theatre.

One woman was crushed to death and 45 others were injured.

An unidentified man screamed a warning a split-second before the chunks of mortar plunged down. It probably saved the lives of other persons in the audience.

They had a chance to dive underneath the seats. The concrete, but gave enough protection for the persons underneath to stagger out of the theatre, choking and gagging on the dust. Most suffered only minor injuries.

"It sounded like thunder or an explosion," a dazed teenage girl sobbed. She was looking for her 13-year-old cousin that had gone to see the show "Homicidal" with her at the Nola Theatre.

Mrs. Mary Odinet, 65, did not have a chance to move out of her seat. Firemen said she was crushed under the debris that fell from the 30-foot-high inner ceiling.

Many of the injured were children. Most of them suffered face and head cuts. They were taken to four different hospitals. Several were in serious condition and kept for observation, but most were released after emergency treatment.

Parents with children inside battled police and firemen trying to hold the crowd back. They wanted to get inside to look for their children.

"It was a turmoil, a panic," said the district fire chief Raymond Henriezy. His fire company was first at the scene.

"My men had to fight through people to get in," he said. "They were trying to get to their children."

Ambulances, police cars and fire trucks were slowed by thousands of sight-seers.

OUR VERY OWN GARDENING GUIDE (UP AND AUTUMN EDITION.)

I realize that the calendar says I am a little late in giving autumn advice to gardeners.

In most areas of Canada, winter is already upon us, with icy fingers and 14 inches of snow at you-know-where, Sask.

But things are different in this, the Fairest City of Them All.

The calendar is continually belied by the weather, thus making it difficult for us, the residents of this fair city, to know what day it is, let alone what time it is.

(This may explain quite a bit to outside observers wondering what on earth we are going to do about our centenary.)

But I digress. No matter what the calendar says, it is autumn.

And autumn poses one of the gardener's biggest problems.

Just exactly when should one rake the leaves?

The leaves have been merrily falling for several weeks. Some gardeners have been attacking them on a daily basis, but this is not recommended. As fast as the leaves are raked, added leaves fall, and the only result the gardener has to show for his labors is an aching back.

Other gardeners believe in waiting until the last leaf has fallen and then raking ALL the leaves at once.

This has undoubted advantages, especially as there is always ONE leaf which refuses to fall at all, and thus the raking operation can be delayed indefinitely, if not longer.

There is an even more undoubted disadvantage, though: if the gardener's wife does not have a good sense of humor, the gardener is apt to find himself with a headache as well as a backache.

(This is especially true of one gardener I know. His wife found out he had tied on the last dozen leaves with baling wire.)

So there is the problem posed by autumn—when to rake leaves.

The solution?

Move to a more blessed climate, where the leaves are already buried, deep and crisp and even.

B.C. Orders Timber Sale In Dam Area

The B.C. government is offering for sale more than 250,000,000 cubic feet of timber on land to be flooded by the Peace River power project.

A cabinet order today reserves all the land from the damsite near Hudson Hope to the 2,250-foot contour level as a timber salvage sale area.

The Forest Service plans a $1,000,000 road from the PGE Railway to Finlay Forks, 80 miles northwest of the damsite, to bring timber down to the rail line for shipping.

SUSPENSE ACCOUNT

Money raised from the timber sale, which will start this fall, will go into a special government "suspense account."

It will later pay for administration costs of the timber sale, one of the biggest ever held by the government, and it probably will pay also for the forest access road.

A special vote in next year's budget—the Peace River power timber salvage vote—will provide funds to conduct the big timber auction.

Deputy Forests Minister R. G. McKee said today the government will advertise this fall for auction of timber on the first 20 miles of land to be flooded by the Peace River.

Next year it will sell the rest of the timber as far as Finlay Forks.

Total timber in these two parcels is estimated at 34,000,000 cubic feet, including some commercial wood, plus jack-pine and poplar.

'Judgment of 12 Better Than One'

A car crash on Admiral's Road, near HMCS Naden, in which a visiting British sailor was killed in the early hours of last Aug. 19 resulted in a charge of driving with criminal negligence in B.C. Assize Court here today.

Leading Seaman Charles William Logan, RCN, of Royal Roads, pleaded not guilty to driving a car with criminal negligence so that it crashed off the road and resulted in the death of Able Seaman James Roy, 26, of Grimsby, England, then visiting Esquimalt with British warship, HMS Londonderry.

The seaman's death saddened local celebrations for the visiting officers and crew aboard the British ship. Both Logan and leading seaman Arthur Robert Weightman, also of Royal Roads, sustained injuries in the crash.

The trial is being heard by a jury of eleven men and one woman sworn in this morning.

Leading Seaman Logan sat silently in the dock while William R. McIntyre of Victoria, outlined the case for the prosecution.

"DIRECT RESULT"

He said the Crown would call evidence to show that Logan, while driving the car along Admirals Road at about 2:45 a.m., drove with "such reckless disregard of the consequences" that the car careened off the road and "as a direct result," Seaman Roy was killed.

Before the jury was sworn in Mr. Justice J. O. Sullivan spoke of the value of the jury system in carrying out justice.

"Accidents do occur," he said, "and we never know but that one of us may be in that box because someone has been killed."

"If we should ever be in that position, which God forbid, it is reassuring to know that good citizens and neighbors will come into court and see that justice is done."

The unanimous judgment and opinion of twelve solid citizens is more to be relied upon than is the judgment of one individual, however learned.

Dennis William Gee, survey chief for the municipality of Esquimalt, produced a map in court which he made of a section of the Admirals Road after the accident.

T. P. O'Grady, defending, said he objected to this map except as a "rough sketch."

The objection was noted but the map was pinned on a board facing the jury.

William Evans John, RCN naval photographer, identified photographs which he said he made after the accident. The trial proceeded this afternoon.

Sunday Sale Prohibited

A misunderstanding in the dates fireworks may legally be sold in Victoria was cleared up today by Deputy Chief Harry Mercer.

He said a bylaw, passed in 1958 by city council, prohibits the sale of fireworks in the city from Oct. 14 through 28.

"They may only be sold Oct. 29, 30 and 31 until 6 p.m. each day, but this year the provisions of the Lord's Day Act will mean they cannot be sold Oct. 29 since it falls on a Sunday."

Thieves Enter Lumber Yard

Two weekend break-ins were reported to city police today. A hacksaw, wrecking bar and $1 in pennies was missing from Saanich Lumber Yards, 3041 Douglas, by thieves who broke in and ransacked

Unconscious

Police said Mr. Grant was unconscious when taken from the wreckage of his auto by passing motorist Able Seaman Norman Brownell, HMCS Antigonish, and taken to hospital.

Hospital officials said today the seaman, serving on the government vessel Oshawa, recovered consciousness some time after being admitted.

Equally damaging to vehicles but resulting in slight injuries to occupants were two separate accidents in Saanich near midnight Saturday.

In Creek

At 11:45 p.m. Saturday a car driven by Roderick Pottinger, 1662 Oak Bay, missed a right turn in the 4200 block Carey and left the road.

Police said the vehicle went 105 feet after leaving the road before flipping over and coming to rest in Colquitz Creek.

Pottinger was unhurt, and a passenger, Gordon A. Barker, 4326 Sandra Lane, was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital with a fractured shoulder.

$1,200 Damage

Damage to the cars was estimated at $1,200.

The other accident took place an hour later on Cedar Hill Crossroad when a car driven by George Christie, 1661 Earliston, collided, head-on, with a parked car and caused a total of $2,000 damage.

The second car, rented from a city firm by Laverne Johnson, 3937 Cedar Hill Crossroad, was parked, unoccupied, outside the Johnson home.

Mr. Christie was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital where he was treated for cuts and bruises.

Hit and Run

City police are looking for the driver of a car Sunday at 8:15 p.m., which collided with a car driven by Ernest G. Williams, 3214 Aldridge, at Gorge and Garbally.

The other driver reportedly stopped his vehicle, got out and said, "What the hell is going on," before getting in his car and driving off.

Pedestrian Hurt

Sunday at 5:57 p.m. a pedestrian, Ernest King, Scott Apartments, Douglas Street, was taken to St. Joseph's and treated for shock and a bruised hip before being released.

Police said he was in collision with a car driven by Kenneth Irwin Cunningham, 214 Suzanne Place, at the intersection of Douglas and Bay.

Damage Slight

A total of seven accidents where damage was slight and injuries negligible occurred in the city Sunday between 2:10 a.m. and 11:18 p.m.

The other city accidents occurred Saturday afternoon and early today and were all minor in nature.

Police in both areas expressed grave concern over the outbreak and urged caution on drivers in view of the beginning of bad weather and poor road conditions.

MISSION FROM MISSION ENDS IN DOUGLAS STREET COLLISION

Mrs. Dorothy Bayliss of Mission City travelled all the way to Victoria to see her daughter Evelyn receive a scholarship at Victoria College's assembly on Friday.

She never got there.

While Evelyn walked up to receive her award, her mother lay in St. Joseph's Hospital, victim of one of the rash of accidents that swept Victoria over the weekend.

Mrs. Bayliss was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, involved in a collision at the junction of the Trans-Canada Highway and Douglas Street Friday afternoon.

It was Mr. and Mrs. Bayliss' first visit to Victoria. The injured woman was released from hospital Saturday after receiving treatment for facial cuts.

Edgelow Pushes Woodward Deal

City council should move quickly to "reactivate" a proposal that would put up Victoria's third large department store on the present City Hall property, Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow said today.

He said it appeared likely the city would purchase the B.C. Hydro building — "if the price is right" — as a new civic headquarters.

"If that does happen, then we should be in a position to immediately try selling the present property so it would go on the tax roll," he said.

"I can't think of a better way to do it than reactivate the Woodward deal."

IN 1957

He was referring to a series of negotiations in 1957 when Woodward Stores Ltd. tried to buy the City Hall site and all property bounded by Pandora, Douglas, Fisgard and Government.

At the time, Woodward planned erecting a $5,000,000 store on the property.

City council came to virtual agreement with the company on the city-held land but the deal collapsed when private property owners in the area did not sign an agreement.

It is understood that Woodward's now is involved in negotiations on a move deal involving construction of a huge community shopping centre on Douglas at Tolmie.

COME DOWNTOWN

"If we could get Woodward's to build on the present City Hall site, that would give us three department stores within walking distance of each other," said Ald. Edgelow.

"Then you would really see the shoppers coming downtown."

"In addition, the City Hall now stands on prime commercial land and we should get it on to the tax roll as soon as possible because it would bring in a considerable annual revenue to the city."

"For that reason I think we should sell it at a reasonable price and not try to hold anyone up if they will put up a major development."

FLAG RITE HONORS DAG

The memory of Dag Hammarskjöld will be honored at the United Nations Day ceremony on Tuesday at 11 a.m. at the flagstaff of the Legislative Buildings.

After the flag has been raised by members of the UN Association of Victoria to mark the anniversary of the signing of the charter of the United Nations, it will be lowered to half mast in memory of the late secretary-general.

Jaycees Drop Plans to Buy Famed Trekka

Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce has decided not to proceed with plans to enshrine the Victoria-built yawl Trekka in which John Guzzwell sailed around the world.

Trekka is up for sale in California but as a result of interest created in her in Victoria, skipper Guzzwell offered to return her to the city for $4,000.

Victoria Jaycees probed the matter but at a recent meeting of the executive decided to drop it.

"We felt Trekka is in too good a condition to be hauled ashore as a monument," a spokesman said.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Police today reported that a total of 26 sninning citizens had been lodged in the city jail Sunday.

The number was thinned down today at the conclusion of court but a number were required to remain.

The monthly surplus food stall gave out food hampers to more than 250 needy families in Greater Victoria on Saturday.

Each hamper was filled with fresh meat, milk, vegetables, and fruit, and the stall day was pronounced one of the most successful since the scheme began nine years ago. The next stall will be held on November 18.

East-West — 1, O. Leemant and J. Lukas; 2, Irene Abels and Isabel Artlett, and Mr. and Mrs. S. Duprau (tied); 4, Madge Meachem and Audrey Jorgensen.

Vancouver workers had been on strike for two months and pickets were used at outlets in Victoria and other Vancouver Island points.

The new contract provides a wage increase of $20 a month spread over a 26-month period and retroactive to April of this year.

A man was fined $25 in Saanich police court today for being a common nuisance after he had waved a pistol at his fiancée and customers of a restaurant Sunday at 2:10 a.m.

Police said Charles N. Luxton, 1257 Haultain, went into the White Spot Drive-In, Douglas Street, and asked for the girl.

When she appeared he told her he had just killed a man and she would read about it in the papers.

Luxton produced a blank-firing pistol used for starting athletic events and waved it about.

Police said the girl became hysterical and the customers "fled."

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow, centennial committee chairman, today said he would look into possibilities of sending postcard invitations to all former servicemen who trained or served here "to come back and help us celebrate our centennial next year."

Construction of a 165-foot-long canopy over the north sidewalk of Fort Street, from Broad almost to Government, began today. Neon Products of Canada expects the $3,000 project will take about two weeks to complete erection of the tan-colored fibreglass canopy on steel frames.

LAUNCHING TUESDAY, WEATHER PERMITTING

'Power-Equipped' Ferry Ready for Splash

The 1962 model B.C. government ferry, complete with "power steering" and "power brakes" will be unveiled here Tuesday.

Mv. City of Victoria will be launched from the ways at Victoria Machinery Depot at 2 p.m. — weather permitting — by Mrs. Percy Scurrell, the mayor's wife.

The $3,600,000 vessel will go into service on the Toll Authority's Swartz Bay-Tsawwassen run next February.

She will be joined in April by the fourth ferry in Premier

Bennett's "fleet," to be christened Mv. City of Vancouver, under construction at Burrard Dry Dock Ltd.

VMD officials said the Victoria is "ready to go" but her launching could be postponed because of weather. If there is a heavy wind from the wrong direction the ceremony could be called off.

The Victoria is bigger and better than her sisters Sidney and Tsawwassen, which went into service June 15, 1960.

She weighs 3,108 tons, is 22 feet longer, at 342 feet, four feet wider at 78 feet and is 20 feet 6 inches deep from main deck to keel.

The Victoria will carry 1,000 passengers compared with 600 in her sisters; she will have room for 106 cars.

The "power steering" is fingertip-touch control through reduction boxes.

The "power brakes" are two transverse bow propulsion units which will turn the vessel sideways to make docking easier. The Swedish-built units will pump water through the bows to move the ship.

The main engines are four 1,625 horse-power turbo-charged diesels.

Other new refinements on Victoria include a special elevator from car deck to promenade deck for passengers, and full air conditioning throughout.

"These ships will make our ferry system the most modern in North America," said a spokesman for the Toll Authority.

He said they were well ahead of the requirements of Lloyds and Canadian passenger ship regulations.

They Will Have Music Wherever They Go

By PENNY SAVER

If you have a son longing to become another "Duke Eddy", play Santa in a big way this year, and present him with a beautiful guitar. These are round-hole, flat guitars, with exceptional tone, and they can be played either western or finger style. A marvelous buy for such a lovely instrument, $19.95. If Junior possibly loses interest after struggling with cords for a few weeks, arrange for lessons, and rent a guitar with option, to buy.

Some members of the younger set work all week trying to scrape together a dollar to purchase latest disc on the "hit" scene. But alas, five more pennies are necessary to make this purchase. This shop, strictly "hipsville" with the teens, has taken weekly allowances into consideration, and has decided to sell its 45 rpm and 78 rpm records for one dollar even. I'd say that's cool!

Dig this! All brands of 33 rpm long-play records, regularly $1.98, can be added to your swingin' collection for only $1.29. That's value!

If pure native rhythm is the sound you like, bang your way to satisfaction on Mexican bongos. At prices starting at $5.95, and going up to $9.95, these double bongos have genuine calf skin heads, and a lovely wood finish.

Music of the "roaring twenties" is coming back. For our present day Casanova, there is no answer but to strum his way to a lady's heart with a ukelele. Don't laugh, I have seen the most adorable full-sized ukeleles for only $5.95. They have a light brown finish and bound edges.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It's Great To Be Alive—Don't Let Winter Settle Over Soul

You know something? It is simply wonderful to be alive. It is wonderful to be able to feel strongly, whether in sadness or gladness. That is being alive. It is wonderful to be able to sense and be a part of the humor and poignancy, the challenge and the trouble and the turmoil of daily living.

It is simply marvelous to be alive, to be capable of responding to the aroma of a hot, dusty road after a sudden shower, to the brilliant colors of fall, to snow on evergreens, to a palm tree in the moonlight, to a moon silvery lake, to wind in the trees, to the sound of the surf breaking on the beach, to stabs of lightning in the sky.

In a short story called, "An Idyl of London," one of the characters says to his companions, "I believe that you will never let despair get the upper hand of you. I entreat you not to lose your faith in humanity. There is nothing like that for withering up the very core of the heart."

"I tell you, humanity, and nature have so much in common that if you lose your faith in the former you will lose part of your pleasure in the latter; you will see less beauty in the trees, the flowers, and the fields, less grandeur in the mighty mountains and the sea. The seasons will come and go and you will scarcely heed their coming and going; winter will settle over your soul just as it settled over mine."

I believe that this is so very true. There is a deep correlation between love of nature and love of humanity. It seems to me that it would be impossible to love one without loving the other. Some times we fail to enjoy the beauty of the world about us because of worry, fatigue, frustrations, or disappointment. Even more often we miss this source of enrichment because of the rush and pressure of daily living.

This is a terrific loss to any person. No matter what our lives are, the great panorama of the outdoors is always there waiting; with its infinite variety with which to soothe and charm, stimulate and comfort us.

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Individual Happiness," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 65 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

TODAY'S RECIPE

MINCED-BEEF STEW WITH HERB DUMPLINGS

Two tablespoons shortening, 1 pound hamburger, 1/4 cup finely-chopped onion, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 can (20 ounces) tomatoes, 1 cup water, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon the salt and pepper. Fry, stirring often, until meat is richly browned. Stir in tomatoes, water, Worcestershire sauce and sugar. Cover and simmer while preparing the dumplings.

Two tablespoons shortening, 1 cup granulated sugar, 1 1/2 cups once-sifted all-purpose flour, or 1 1/2 cups once-sifted pastry flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 1/2 tablespoons shortening, 2 tablespoons finely-chopped parsley, 1/4 teaspoon thyme, 1/2 cup (about) milk.

Sift all-purpose or pastry flour, baking powder and remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt together into a bowl. Cut in the 1 1/2 tablespoons shortening finely. Mix in parsley and thyme. Make a well in the mixture; mix in milk lightly, adding a little more, if necessary, to make a drop batter. Drop the batter by spoonfuls over simmering stew. Cover closely and simmer (never lifting the cover) for 15 minutes. Serve at once. Makes about 6 servings.

DEAR ABBY

Sit Back and Relax, Ma!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a son who just finished college, and is about to enter a theological college. He has wanted to be a minister since he was 16. He is a good-looking, athletic, wholesome boy who has had an average social life.

He dislikes bold girls who wear sweaters and tight skirts, but he is now being chased by girls looking for marriage. Girls bombard him with phone calls, invitations to parties, etc. I do not want to offend the girls, but when I grew up the men did the courting. Nothing will drive him to a celibate life sooner than aggressive girls. These girls are running him ragged. What can I do?

HIS MOTHER.

DEAR MOTHER: A young man with the obvious, moral training and spiritual aspirations of your son does not need anyone to run interference for him. Relax, Mother. I have never heard of a boy who couldn't run faster than a girl in a tight skirt.

DEAR ABBY: We are four girls who would like to know how old a girl should be before she can (1) shave her legs; (2) wear make-up; (3) go in cars with boys.

PATTI, CAROL, LINDA AND JOAN.

DEAR P. C. L. AND J.: Girls can do the above-mentioned things when their own mothers decide they are ready. It is up to each mother to make these decisions for her own daughter.

DEAR ABBY: Am I wrong in thinking that my husband should not receive love letters from his ex-wife? He thinks it is all right because that's the only way he can find out how his children are. He divorced her for reasons you couldn't even put in the paper—but now that he is married to me, to hear him tell it, there was never a finer woman than her. I can't have any children for him, and I think that's probably why he is so mean and spiteful. What can I do? It's not my fault, I am 28 and he is 33.

DOWN-HEARTED.

DEAR DOWN-HEARTED: "Having children" isn't the special privilege of a few. You are young enough to adopt a family. Why not consider it?

International Sorority at College

Soft glow of tall white candles in silver candelabra, gleamed on the gold and blue colors in the crest of Phrateres International, and on the formal frocks worn by chapter members and initiates, when a new women's sorority, Omega Chapter of Phrateres, was officially launched Saturday evening in the Faculty Club on the Gordon Head Campus of Victoria College.

Officers of Theta Chapter, University of British Columbia, conducted the ceremony. Mrs. Marge Chilstrom, grand president of Phrateres International, came from Los Angeles to present the charter and to address members of the new chapter. She was accompanied by Mrs. Marian Gill, member of the international board of trustees, who also spoke briefly.

President of Theta Chapter, Miss Sandra Robertson, in her charge to Omega Chapter charter members said: "To win friends one must be a friend to others, working and playing together."

Assisting her in the ceremony were the following officers of Theta Chapter who came from Vancouver for the occasion: Misses Betty Duckworth, Karen Carter, Lynda Chan, Anne Ridsdale, Helena Lethbridge, Myrna Dambrow-itz, Teri Yoshida, Frances Jang, Jennifer Carrick and Anne Mecklem.

Officers installed in Victoria's Omega Chapter are: Miss Charlene Love, president; Miss Florence Chan, vice-president; Miss Margaret Austin, secretary; Miss Diane McNie, treasurer; Miss Marilyn Butt, publicity; Miss Lorna Fletcher, initiation.

Other charter members include the Misses Lorna Worth, Carolyn Wild, Sarah McKinnon, Carol Bloomquist, Wendy Mar, Sandra Noble, Diane Wiper, Ellen Kimoto, Julie Ann Gibson, Sylvia Austin and Cathy Hatch.

A reception followed the ceremony. Among those present from out-of-town were Dr. Helen McCrae, dean of women, and Dr. K. Brearley, assistant dean at the University of British Columbia. Three past presidents of Theta Chapter, now living in Victoria, Mrs. A. Carlsen, Mrs. W. H. Gaddes and Mrs. D. Dennis, were also among the guests.

Phrateres International was organized on the campus at University of California at Los Angeles, to bring thousands of college women into a friendly circle. From the beginning, the sorority did not "rush". Any girl was eligible if she wished to join. This idea is still continued.

Motto of Phrateres International, "Famous For Friendliness," was well exemplified at initiation and installation of the new Omega Chapter of Phrateres Saturday evening at the Faculty Club on the Gordon Head Campus. Nationalities of sorority members included from the left: Miss Florence Chan, Chinese; Miss Balder Dhillon, a Sikh; Miss Sarah McKinnon, Canadian; Miss Ellen Kimoto, Japanese; and Miss Lorna Fletcher, Canadian.

STRATFORD IMPROVES SHOWPLACE STEP BY STEP

Little Ontario City Transformed As Festival Magic Draws Hordes

By R. J. ANDERSON
STRATFORD, Ont. (CP)—Like any prudent home-owner, Stratford is refurbishing a room at a time.

It knows that something is happening to it but hasn't quite made up its mind what it is. A step at a time is Stratford's pace.

The Shakespearean Festival, born in 1953 of a newspaper man's dream, has grown gradually. So has the idea that it is here to stay. The $2,000,000 architectural showpiece on the bank of the Avon River that is the Stratford Festival Theatre is eloquently that it no longer is a dream.

The festival brought culture to the attractive little city that once was known mostly as a railway and furniture manufacturing centre and the hub of a fertile Western Ontario farming area. And it brought more than 225,000 visitors this year, through June, July, August and most of September.

Tourist Bonanza

Culture and the cosmopolitan atmosphere attendant upon each summer's invasion of tens of thousands of people from faraway places have come to Stratford. Its quiet life, geared to a population of 21,000 that has changed little over the years, has been disturbed. Some, a small minority, aren't sure they like it.

T. J. Flood, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, who came here in 1954 from Hearst, Ont., is not of that minority. He is well aware that the estimated $2,500,000 spent each year by festival visitors is more than a seasonal windfall. The effects are felt the year around, he says, with almost everyone in Stratford benefitting in some way.

After decades of being a railway town, its life revolving around steam locomotives, Stratford has had to adjust to fact: diesels now rule the rails and the shops have been closed, the railway payroll being cut to fewer than 300 from more than 1,200.

Economy Helped

Tom Flood knows that the festival cannot fill that gaping hole in the economy but it has helped. So have 24 new industries in the last few years. Now Stratford has become known the length and breadth of a continent, not for its fine furniture and other manufactures, but for Shakespeare at its best.

The idea of holding a Canadian Shakespearean Festival in the small namesake of the bard's birthplace was that of Tom Patterson, Ottawa and Toronto newspaper man and Stratford native who now is the festival's consultant. First plans were modest—use of an open-air bandstand and a budget of $30,000.

With the help of Sir Tyrone Guthrie, noted British director, the festival came into being in 1953. Until 1957 performances were held in a huge tent, but that year, with contributions from governments, charities foundations and the public, the beautiful theatre in a picture-book setting of rolling lawns and flowers, was opened.

'Apron' Stage

Its striking feature is an apron stage, an adaptation of the Elizabethan stage, with seven acting levels and six prior entrances. Surrounded on three sides by the sloping amphitheatre, the stage establishes intimate actor-spectator relationship, with few props needed. The theatre seats 2,258 with no spectator more than 65 feet from the stage.

Shakespeare was more than a name to Stratford long before the festival was thought of. In 1834, a few years after the first settlers arrived, the hamlet needed a name and someone called it Stratford and the little river winding through it the Avon. In time, the town was divided into five wards—named Romeo, Hamlet, Falstaff, Avon and Shakespeare. Many streets have Shakespearean names and the Shakespearean Gardens by the court house are a must for the visitor.

Receipts Soared

The ninth festival season, which closed September 23, ran 14 weeks, the longest to date. The theatre was filled to 86.5 per cent of capacity—225,000 admissions and a box-office of $724,000. In 1953, attendance was 68,000, with receipts of $206,000.

The last two weeks of the 1961 season were devoted to high school students. Some 25,000 came here from London, Toronto and other Ontario cities as well as from Buffalo, N.Y.

Shakespeare came alive, something more than compulsory reading in school. After each matinee, festival actors held question-and-answer discussions on the plays, the theatre itself and Shakespeare.

New Motels Built

The festival forced changes in the city's way of life. How properly to care for the influx of theatre-lovers was one of the problems. Where there once was only one motel, there now are six—and they must earn enough in the summer months to carry them through the remainder of the year.

The city's hotels still look drab on the outside, but the interiors are being modernized—a few rooms this year, more next year. Tourist homes have expanded, the "pin money" thus earned by many senior citizens being distributed to shops that may not directly share in the festival bounty.

Store fronts have been modernized and many a specialty shop has sprung up where fine woollens and china from England can be purchased. These storekeepers have learned how festival visitors spend their time between performances.

Liquor Now Sold

Cocktail lounges became legal last year and that was one of the first things tackled. Hotel owner Dave Pinkney, a teetotaler, summed up the attitude of the hotels when he said: "If we're going to have liquor, let's have good liquor."

He meant clean, modern surroundings and his cocktail lounge is equal to the best anywhere. Others in the city are comparable. So are the hotel dining rooms and city restaurants.

Festival officials are the first to admit that Shakespeare in Stratford hasn't led to the crusade for improvement of the Canadian theatre that once was hoped for. But it has given many Canadian performers their opportunity and brought here the world's leading actors and actresses that once were only names to Stratford.

Alec Guinness, Paul Scofield, Christopher Plummer, Douglas Campbell, Siobhan McKenna, Jason Roberts Jr. and other greats of the theatre have trod the festival's unique

Hunters Trapped in Hills As Blizzard Hits Suddenly

BURLEY, Idaho (AP)—A sudden snowstorm marooned hundreds of hunters south of here Saturday on the first day of deer season. Scores were feared still stranded by four-foot drifts today.

Many wore light clothing and carried few provisions, expecting to be in the hills only a day.

Two or three thousand hunters thronged to three game units south of Burley and Twin Falls Saturday.

The storm struck a few hours later, and continued most of Sunday.

A number of stalled vehicles were abandoned along snow-bound mountain roads as the owners slipped out on foot.

One hunter died of a heart attack and two others were reported missing south of Burley, where up to two feet of snow fell.

"It's hard to say just how many are still stranded," said police chief George E. Warrell of Burley. "A bunch of the hunters went back in Sunday and we can't figure out who's lost and who isn't."

MORE SNOW EXPECTED

There was one estimate that 200 hunters were lost but Warrell said it was impossible to make an accurate count.

More snow was forecast today. Authorities planned air drops of food if the weather permitted. A low ceiling hampered aerial scouting and air drops Sunday.

Ground parties, using snow plows and heavy vehicles, worked around the clock.

Frank Hayden, 42, of Rupert, Idaho, collapsed and died while hunting with his wife and two sons. His family was picked up by rescue workers.

The storm also hit southward in northern Utah. About 150,000 hunters were out for the opening of deer season in Utah but officials said only one was missing.

SOLUTION WEDNESDAY

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Andy Griffith has plain, flat refused to become the social lion of Hollywood and Beverly Hills.

"Once and twice a year we go out, but I don't like to get at tables," Andy said here the other day, talking even more hillbillyish, it seemed to me, than when he first left the Carolinas and came to New York to star in "No Time for Sergeants."

"I like to eat off a tray with my collar open," added Andy, now a big TV star with a house out in the San Fernando Valley.

CANT DO IT

"N P enjoy settin' around with friends," drawled Andy. "If I don't know somebody well, I can't make-out I'm wild about 'em."

"Barbara can do it!" He looked admiringly at his wife as we all sat around Sardi's East one recent afternoon. Andy's collar was open; his tie was loosened. "Of course she went to Converse College!"

Andy was just as frank about everything else. His show's steadily rated second since it got under way and so that makes him candid about the movies.

OUT OF WORK

"It's because I was so bad in the movies, I'm in television. After 'Onion Head' was so unsuccessful, I couldn't get arrested. I laid around home for a year. Couldn't get work."

"But you recently played in that Debbie Reynolds picture," I pointed out, referring to "Second Time Around."

"Why did I? Because I needed the work," Andy said.

"But you should have been busy doing TV."

GLORY BE

"Not at that time. We break every three months. This spring I'm goin' home to North Carolina. Glory be!"

Barbara and Andy recently went on a two-week tour by special railroad car to promote the TV show, and though they had some great food up around San Francisco, Andy remembered one other meal vividly.

"I had chicken and cheese somewhere, and they didn't tell me in advance it was limburger cheese," Andy winced.

Having been more or less a farm boy, Andy decided when he went to Hollywood that he would like to have a little land.

"At first we didn't have no land at all," Andy said. "But finally we got Gordon MacRae's old house. How much land you suppose we got now?"

"An acre! That's ain't no land at all but out there there ain't no land."

Danny Thomas and Sheldon Leonard manage to get Andy out in public occasionally . . . and Andy remembered that when he went to last year's Emmy dinner, he dressed in his car. Black tie, of course.

"It was a clip tie and it kept comin' unclipped," he remembered.

"He promised to take me out once a week but that only lasted for three weeks," Barbara said. "Some big time I'm having in Hollywood."

"Of course Hollywood's a myth anyway," Andy said. "I am not puttin' down Hollywood! Rarely even rains and that's a blessing."

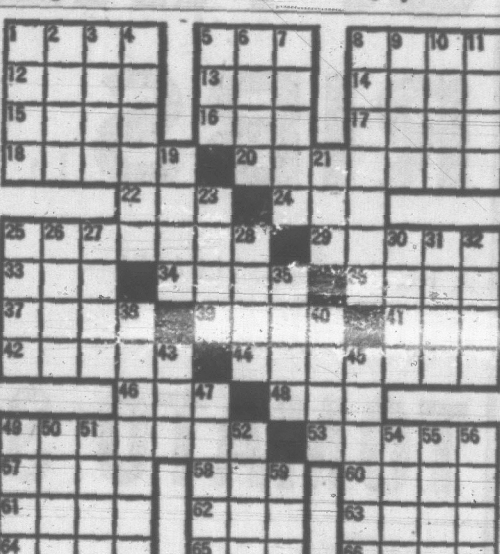

"But in New York early in the morning, you can see it's a big city where something's about to happen. But in Hollywood early in the morning—well, it's just early in the morning."

EARL'S PEARLS: Phil Greenwalk reports the Concord Hotel's ice rink has a capacity of 1,000 skaters—but a seating capacity of only 500.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Theatrical agent Bullets Duggan is very proud of his new Jaguar and Marty Allen says it's so handsome that girls whistle at the car.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: One fellow, relates L. S. McCandless, asked another, "How's your better half?" "Fine," said the first, "but you're sure loose with your fractions."

Egyptian Government Grabs Classy Field

CAIRO (AP)—The Egyptian government today found itself possibly the world's biggest owner of thoroughbred race horses.

As a result of measures seizing the property of 167 wealthy Egyptians, the government took control of at least nine of the biggest stables with some 270 horses. The government is expected to end up with more horses.

Among the horses was this year's top money-winner, Gawahar Mansour, a four-year-old who romped home in the Alexandria Grand Prix. The seized stables included that of Ahmed Abboud, Egypt's biggest horse fancier with 70 thoroughbreds.

There is no official estimate of the value of the horses under government control. It was not known how the government will dispose of the animals. Purses won by the horses presumably will go into the Egyptian treasury.

Jail Break Fall Kills Prisoner

SEATTLE (AP)—One prisoner fell to his death, two were recaptured after moments of freedom and five escaped in a mass break at the King County jail Sunday night.

Among those who escaped was Thomas R. Fasenmeyer Jr., 31, son of a wealthy Kansas City auto dealer, being held on four counts of burglary in connection with a series of jewel thefts.

Killed was Lawrence D. Johnson, 25, San Francisco, held by King county authorities on charges of burglary and rape.

Johnson fell from the 10th floor of the County-City Building after the eight prisoners sawed their way out of a cell on that floor. His hands slipped from an escape rope fashioned from jail sheets.

The seven others slid from the 10th floor to the ninth and made their way back into the building by breaking a window. They overpowered members of the sheriff's staff and fled. Sheriff Tim McCullough reported.

MOVIE PREPARED IN SECRET

Mahatma's Life on Film

By RUMKINI DEVI

Canadian Press Correspondent

BOMBAY (CP)—Press reports here say a Hollywood film on the life of Mohandas Gandhi is in active preparation "under cover of unusual secrecy."

The Bombay Evening News reported the production is known only as Project 942. The venture is expected to go into production by the end of this year.

Producers in Hollywood and London have been toying for several years with the idea of making a film depicting Gandhi's career. At least two projects are known to have progressed to a considerable extent before being given up.

One of the major difficulties is to find a suitable man to portray Gandhi. This is held to be a most complex role, especially for a European or American actor.

A top name mentioned in connection with the latest Gandhi film venture is that of Britain's Sir Alex Guinness.

$25-a-Head Shindig For UN's Birthday

WASHINGTON (CP)—With age to the occasion—to raise funds for the United States committee for the UN—and Canadian officials anticipated the president would appear at the concert, though not at the reception afterwards.

However, the White House said there is doubt whether the president will turn up at the concert. Pamela Turnure, press secretary to Mrs. Kennedy, said the Kennedys give their patronage to a lot of events and simply cannot appear at them all.

The U.S. committee for the UN, a non-profit organization dedicated to spreading word of the UN throughout the U.S., has been working hard to get the president's attendance. But the White House has remained aloof.

The specially invited guests, including diplomats, members of the Kennedy cabinet, representatives of Hollywood and prominent businessmen, have been asked to donate at least $25 a person to the committee fund.

STOCKHOLM — Swedish, Danish and French observatories today registered a huge explosion which some observers believed to be Russia's 50-megaton hydrogen bomb.

'CONTEMPTUOUS' Two Large Blasts Says Dief

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said today that Russia set off two nuclear explosions—both larger than usual.

The prime minister made the statement to reporters when asked about press reports that a single Soviet test blast early today may have been the 50-megaton explosion forecast by Premier Khrushchev last week.

"There were two explosions," Mr. Diefenbaker replied. "There was no certainty that they were in fact 50-megatons." He said, however, that they were larger than the usual ones.

Mr. Diefenbaker's statement was the first suggestion that there were two nuclear blasts by Russia during the night.

The prime minister said his statement was based on an analysis of information.

"My reaction... is one of deep concern over the continuing and contemptuous attitude of the U.S.S.R. in poisoning the atmosphere and thereby bringing danger to millions and millions of innocent people everywhere in the world," the prime minister said.

Mr. Diefenbaker referred to the resolution now before the United Nations, seeking an end to the Russian tests.

"I hope the United Nations will vote in favor of this resolution and let the U.S.S.R. know in clear and unequivocal language how the world feels that innocent people should be required to suffer by reason of the stubbornness in continuing tests."

'Moderate' Shock Here

A check of the observatory's seismograph equipment showed a 5.5-magnitude shock wave was registered at 58 minutes after midnight.

Hugh White, of the observatory's seismological department, said there was no way of determining the origin of the shock wave from the single reading here.

"Ordinarily, we would just have read it as an earthquake of moderate magnitude," he said.

"But it was a surface wave which you would expect to be associated with a big nuclear explosion and certainly that possibility cannot be ruled out."

"You would have to co-ordinate our reading with those in several other centres before you could say anything with certainty."

SWEDES CLAIM BLAST CONFIRMED BY RUSSIA

STOCKHOLM (AP)—The Swedish news agency said tonight that Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, Soviet defence minister, confirmed that a 50-megaton nuclear bomb has been exploded over the Arctic.

The Moscow bureau of The Associated Press said it had no confirmation that Malinovsky had made such a statement.

A report from the Soviet news agency Tass on Malinovsky's speech today to the Soviet Communist party congress made no mention of such an explosion.

TRAGIC SHOPPING TRIP

Mother Killed, Child Injured

(SEE ACCIDENT REPORT PAGE 17)

A birthday shopping trip ended in tragedy Saturday evening for a mother of three and her youngest daughter.

Dead is Mrs. Edward Courtepatte, 43, of 2178 Rock Bay Avenue, and lying in Royal Jubilee Hospital in "fairly good condition" is six-year-old Kathleen with extensive head injuries.

Mother and daughter were returning from downtown when they were hit by a car at the intersection of Bay St. and Rock Bay Avenue.

Mrs. Courtepatte was carried 90 feet on the hood of the auto as Kathleen was brushed to the side of the road after the initial shock.

The mother was killed instantly, police said.

Police said the car, driven by a juvenile whose name has not been released, was proceeding west on Bay towards Esquimalt. Measurements taken at the scene indicated it travelled 97 feet after the fatal impact.

Sunday was Kathleen's sixth birthday and her family had prepared a little party for her. It never took place.

Mr. Courtepatte said he believed his wife and step-daughter had just got off a bus before they were hit.

"I was worried when they did not come home for supper on time, and then the police came and told me."

Mr. Courtepatte had been living with Kathleen and her mother since they came to Victoria from Vancouver April 1.

Mrs. Courtepatte's first husband, James Norman Miranda, died just over a year ago.

In his green shingled house today, Mr. Courtepatte sat with his wife's eldest two daughters, Mrs. Leona Gold, 24, and Mrs. Gloria Point, 21, both of North Burnaby.

"Excuse me if I seem a little doped," he said gently, "but I am just getting over some shock pills that the doctor gave me."

"We were only together for a little while," he said, referring to his family, "but the little girl and I get along very well. I hope I can make some arrangements with Leona and Gloria so that she can still stay with me. But we'll have to see."

Mr. Courtepatte works at Moore-Whittington Lumber Co. Ltd. at 2614 Bridge St.

Aside from one passenger in the auto there were no eyewitnesses to the accident.

One of the first on the scene was Jack Papick, 546 Ellice, who said he was driving up Rock Bay when he saw the little girl lying at the intersection. All he could do was cover her up.

Heater-skitter through the intersection lay the tattered remains of the gay afternoon, the broken contents of the birthday shopping bag.

In her hospital room this morning Kathleen, who hasn't been told of her mother's death, lay on her bruised back and looked placidly at the ceiling, her rag dolls at her side.

As the nurse entered and smiled at her, Kathleen tried to smile back. But she couldn't. It hurt too much.

Police are investigating the accident, and the inquest, date has not been set.

TWO NOBEL AWARDS

OSLO (UPI)—In two unprecedented moves, Nobel Peace Prizes were awarded today to the late Dag Hammarskjöld and to an African native chief who battled South Africa's white supremacy policies.

WINNER CUTS CANE IN FIELD

JOHANNESBURG (UPI)—Albert Luthuli, an exiled Zulu chieftain, was cutting cane in the fields today when he won the 1960 Nobel Peace Prize.

Luthuli's wife, who first heard the news in a telephone call, exclaimed, "I know the money ($45,190) will be used to help people in need and not for personal use."

The prize money for Hammarskjöld's award is equivalent to $50,045, and for Luthuli's to $45,190. The amount of the award is based on the annual income from the funds contributed for the award.

The Nobel Peace Prize committee gave no reason for its decisions to honor Hammarskjöld and Chief Luthuli, but it noted the latter's troubles with the South African government and the possibility he might

'Hope Columbia Not Vote Issue'

SPOKANE (AP)—A difference between the Canadian government and British Columbia over use of down-stream power is holding up ratification of the International Columbia River Treaty in Canada, the chairman of the Canadian negotiations team said today.

Justice Minister Fulton, speaking to the Inland Empire Waterways Association, said the Canadian government is anxious to have the treaty formally ratified so that construction can start and water resources be developed jointly.

"The problem is that British Columbia wants to sell Canada's entitlements to down-stream power on long-term basis to United States users," he said.

"This is not, in our opinion, the object of the treaty. We grant that in the initial stages, Canada will be entitled to more power than she can use, and we are most willing that such surpluses be disposed of in your country. However, we do not want to be bound to long-term agreements that could be detrimental to Canada's economic development."

Senator Warren G. Magnuson, Washington Democrat, who moderated the panel on "Development and Management of the Columbia River Water Resources," said he hoped the treaty did not become an issue in Canada's next federal election.

"We don't want such an important matter battered around as an election issue if

(CP From AP-Reuters)

BERLIN — Gen. Lucius D. Clay today blamed Communist East German police for "irresponsible and illegal behavior" causing an incident on the border involving U.S. troops.

President Kennedy's special envoy in Berlin spoke up after a squad of U.S. troops twice marched into East Berlin Sunday night with bayonets fixed to their rifles. Lightner, top state department official in Berlin, East German police had held up Lightner's car. The East Germans did not try to interfere with the U.S. troops.

The U.S. soldiers were backed up by Patton tanks that moved up to the border. The tanks stood guard through the night but were withdrawn this morning. East German police at the border were reinforced.

Friedrichstrasse, where the incident occurred, is the only place the Communists now allow the Western allies to cross into East Berlin.

The behavior of the East German people's police, "created the incident and forced the United States to send a military escort into the Soviet Sector to assist the U.S. minister on exercising his right of free entry and free movement in the Soviet sector," Clay's office said in a statement.

PROTEST EXPECTED

Protests were expected from the Communists. It was the first time armed U.S. troops have entered the Communist sector of the divided city since the border was sealed by the Communists Aug. 13.

Lightner drove up to the East German check point with his wife. The East Germans demanded to see his papers but he refused on the ground that Allied personnel have a right to go into the Communist zone without being subjected to border controls.

Lightner demanded that the East Germans get a Russian officer. At the same time four U.S. M-48 tanks arrived on the scene.

Then a U.S. officer marched across the border with eight military policemen armed with rifles and sidearms.

With Lightner in car is Albert E. Hemming, press spokesman for the U.S. mission in Berlin. American soldiers were sent in to free Lightner, whose car had been held up by East Berlin police.

40 ARRESTED IN EGYPTIAN CRACKDOWN

CAIRO (AP)—The Egyptian government Saturday night announced the arrest of 40 persons and confiscation of property owned by 167 others in a move to eliminate what it called reactionary obstacles to President Nasser's announced goal of Arab socialism.

Informants said the measures were part of a sweeping reform program drawn up following Syria's break with the United Arab Republic last month.

Finally Lightner was allowed to pass the crossing point without identification along with several private British and French cars.

Consultation on Space Urged After 'Cluttering'

LONDON (Reuters) — British newspapers today urged machinery for international consultation of the scientific space program in wake of the far-flung protests by scientists over the U.S. "needles" satellite.

The scientists accused the United States of "cluttering" space by the launching Saturday of a satellite to scatter some 350,000,000 copper needles in a belt around the world.

The belt was designed to enable radio signals to be bounced half-way around the world.

The Times of London said the U.S. experiment now seemed less "high-handed" than it first appeared. It pointed out that in the later stages of preparing for the experiment a committee of the International Astronomical Union was in touch with the U.S. National Academy of Sciences about the project.

The Times said such consultation would have been better when the project first was planned. But the paper commented:

"More important in the long run, the way has been opened for consultation in advance on the form of future experiments; the International Astronomical Union has made its points."

HAD NO OPTION?

The Daily Telegraph noted the absence of international co-ordinating machinery and said perhaps "the Americans had no option but to go ahead on their own."

"But," he added, "this very absence becomes more alarming every day."

The Telegraph said "the world is far too small to be able to afford anarchy in the space surrounding it."

"A society which is capable of total destruction depends for survival totally upon order and the rule of law—not least when its feet are farthest from the ground."

Professor Guglielmo Righini, director of an astrophysical laboratory at Arcetri, Italy, called for an investigation of U.S. assurances that the needles would disperse and not remain in orbit. He said he opposed the project because it might set a dangerous precedent.

The Russian newspaper Pravda reported the project under the headline "U.S. dirties space."

Fred Hoyle, professor of astronomy at Cambridge University, told reporters the "needles" experiment was "a major intellectual crime."

"It is exactly what I have always felt about the space program — that the astronomers were being used as a facade of respectability for an essentially military project."

UNREST CONTINUES

Trujillo Family Fleeing in Yachts

CIUDAD TRUJILLO (AP)—The Trujillo family's two pleasure yachts today were reported ferrying members of the family into self-imposed exile from the strife-torn Dominican Republic.

Gen. Jose Arzobispo Trujillo, a brother of the late generalissimo Rafael Trujillo, was reported to have boarded the luxury yacht Presidente Trujillo during the weekend and headed for some Caribbean port, presumably Martinique, to catch a ship for Spain.

The four-masted sailing ship Angella was reported en route to Bermuda to pick up another brother of the assassinated dictator, Gen. Hector B. Trujillo. Europe was believed to be their destination.

But despite continuing unrest and the possibility that the 31 years of Trujillo rule might be drawing to a close, there was no indication that the generalissimo's son—Gen. Raphael Trujillo Jr., chief of the Dominican armed forces—had any intention of fleeing. Both he and President Joaquin Balaguer had rejected opposition demands to leave.

Rock-throwing mobs continued to battle police in at least two provinces, and at least one man was reported killed about 120 miles north of Ciudad Trujillo.

An inter-American human rights commission arrived Sunday and was greeted by a noisy anti-U.S. and pro-Castro demonstration apparently organized with government approval in an effort to discredit the country's political opposition groups.

One of the demonstrators identified himself to reporters as a member of the official government party.

Even though the government has repeatedly warned it would permit no display of support for Cuban Premier Castro, the police made no move to interfere with the crowd. Demonstrators arrived and left in a fleet of taxicabs and chatted amiably with policemen.

During the anti-government outbreaks that have rocked the island for the last six days the police have shown no reluctance to use clubs and guns to break up demonstrations.

Bubonic Plague

WINDHOEK, Southwest Africa (AP)—Six negroes have died and 22 are ill with bubonic plague in the northern district of this mandated territory. The health office said there are "favorable indications that the outbreak now is under control."

Busy Speculators See Prices Sag

Markets were generally lower at the close of moderate trading today, speculative activity increasing as industrial prices waned with base metals and gold.

A slow decline set in on Wall Street during the afternoon and key stocks were off from fractions to more than a point.

AT TORONTO In late trading Lake Dufault eased 20 cents to $4.40 in relatively light volume while Canadian Dyno Mines, active for the last week, advanced 17 cents to $1.63 with a volume of 100,360 shares.

TODAY'S GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP)—A rally in rye prices featured trading today at the close of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

The flax market also recovered from early lows, but did not sell above the previous closing level.

The oats and barley markets marked time and there was little trading. The coarse grain trade was a domestic shipping affair, with local sources and commission houses supplying small offerings.

Overnight export loadings of Canadian wheat: China 1,226,000 bushels, Germany 557,000, Guatemala 20,000, and El Salvador 18,000.

Lakehead prices for Class Two, IWA and domestic wheat all were unchanged from Friday.

Seaman Badly Injured As Car Crashes Pole

16 Accidents Over Weekend

A crash that critically injured a government seaman headed a grim list of accidents in the city and Saanich over the weekend.

In Royal Jubilee Hospital with a crushed chest is John Vernon Grant, 1037 Wychbury, whose auto swerved off Esquimalt Road near Robert Street Sunday at about 5.35 a.m. and crashed head-on into a telephone pole.

The incident was one of 16 in the city since noon Saturday and six in Saanich.

Oak Bay reported only one slight collision, Esquimalt none and outlying areas also were free of accidents.

SMASHED BASE of telephone pole illustrates violence of crash Sunday on Esquimalt Road that sent John V. Grant, 1037 Wychbury, to hospital in critical condition. He suffered a crushed chest.

MONTE ROBERTS

OUR VERY OWN GARDENING GUIDE (UP AND AUTUMN EDITION.)

I realize that the calendar says I am a little late in giving autumn advice to gardeners.

In most areas of Canada, winter is already upon us, with icy fingers and 14 inches of snow at you-know-where, Sask.

But things are different in this, the Fairest City of Them All.

The calendar is continually belied by the weather, thus making it difficult for we, the residents of this fair city, to know what day it is, let alone what time it is.

But I digress. No matter what the calendar says, it is autumn.

And autumn poses one of the gardener's biggest problems.

Just exactly when should one rake the leaves?

The leaves have been falling for several weeks.

Some gardeners have been attacking them on a daily basis, but this is not recommended. As fast as the leaves are raked, added leaves fall, and the only result the gardener has to show for his labors is an aching back.

Other gardeners believe in waiting until the last leaf has fallen and then raking ALL the leaves at once.

This has undoubted advantages, especially as there is always ONE leaf which refuses to fall at all, and thus the raking operation can be delayed indefinitely, if not longer.

There is an even more undoubted disadvantage, though: If the gardener's wife does not have a good sense of humor, the gardener is apt to find himself with a headache as well as a backache.

(This is especially true of one gardener I know. His wife found out he had tied on the last dozen leaves with baling wire.)

So there is the problem posed by autumn—when to rake leaves.

The solution?
Move to a more blessed clime, where the leaves are already buried, deep and crisp and even.

B.C. Orders Timber Sale In Dam Area

The B.C. government is offering for sale more than 250,000,000 cubic feet of timber on land to be flooded by the Peace River power project.

A cabinet order today reserves all the land from the damsite near Hudson Hope to the 2,250-foot contour level as a timber salvage sale area.

The Forest Service plans a $1,000,000 road from the PGE Railway to Finlay Forks, 80 miles northwest of the damsite, to bring timber down to the rail line for shipping.

SUSPENSE ACCOUNT

Money raised from the timber sale, which will start this fall, will go into a special government "suspense account."

It will later pay for administration costs of the timber sale, one of the biggest ever held by the government, and it probably will pay also for the forest access road.

A special vote in next year's budget—the Peace River power timber salvage vote—will provide funds to conduct the big timber auction.

Deputy Forests Minister R. G. McKee said today the government will advertise this fall for auction of timber on the first 20 miles of land to be flooded by the Peace River.

Next year it will sell the rest of the timber as far as Finlay Forks.

Total timber in these two parcels is estimated at 34,000,000 cubic feet, including some commercial wood, plus jackpine and poplar.

SAILOR'S TRIAL STARTS

'Judgment of 12 Better Than One'

A car crash on Admiral's Road, near HMCS Naden, in which a visiting British sailor was killed in the early hours of last August, resulted in a charge of driving with criminal negligence in B.C. Assize Court here today.

Leading Seaman Charles William Logan, RCN, of Royal Roads, pleaded not guilty to driving a car with criminal negligence so that it crashed off the road and resulted in the death of Able Seaman James Roy, 26, of Gtimsby, England, then visiting Esquimalt with British warship, HMS Londonderry.

The seaman's death saddened local celebrations for the visiting officers and crew aboard the British ship. Both Logan and leading seaman Arthur Robert Weightman, also of Royal Roads, sustained injuries in the crash.

The trial is being heard by a jury of eleven men and one woman sworn in this morning.

Leading Seaman Logan sat silently in the dock while William E. McIntyre of Victoria, outlined the case for the prosecution.

'DIRECT RESULT'

He said the Crown would call evidence to show that Logan, while driving the car along Admirals Road at about 2.45 a.m., drove with "such reckless disregard of the consequences" that the car careened off the road and "as a direct result," Seaman Roy was killed.

Before the jury was sworn in Mr. Justice J. O. Sullivan spoke of the value of the jury system in carrying out justice.

"Accidents do occur," he said, "and we never know but that one of us may be in that box because someone has been killed."

"If we should ever be in that position, which God forbid, it is reassuring to know that good

Unconscious

Police said Mr. Grant was unconscious when taken from the wreckage of his auto by passing motorist Able Seaman Norman Brownell, HMCS Antigonish, and taken to hospital.

Hospital officials said today the seaman, serving on the government vessel Oshawa, recovered consciousness some time after being admitted.

Equally damaging to vehicles but resulting in slight injuries to occupants were two separate accidents in Saanich near midnight Saturday.

In Creek

At 11.45 p.m. Saturday a car driven by Roderick Pottinger, 1662 Oak Bay, missed a right turn in the 4200 block Carey and left the road.

Police said the vehicle went 105 feet after leaving the road before flipping over and coming to rest in Colquitz Creek.

Pottinger was unhurt, and a passenger, Gordon A. Barker, 4326 Sandra Lane, was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital with a fractured shoulder.

$1,200 Damage

Damage to the cars was estimated at $1,200.

The other accident took place an hour later on Cedar Hill Crossroad when a car driven by George Christie, 1661 Earliston, collided, head-on, with a parked car and caused a total of $2,000 damage.

The second car, rented from a city firm by Laverne Johnson, 3337 Cedar Hill Crossroad, was parked, unoccupied, outside the Johnson home.

Mr. Christie was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital where he was treated for cuts and bruises.

Hit and Run

City police are looking for the driver of a car Sunday at 8.15 p.m., which collided with a car driven by Ernest G. Williams, 3214 Aldridge, at George and Garbally.

The other driver reportedly stopped his vehicle, got out and said, "What the hell is going on," before getting in his car and driving off.

Pedestrian Hurt

Sunday at 5.57 p.m., a pedestrian, Ernest King, Scott Apartments, Douglas Street, was taken to St. Joseph's and treated for shock and a bruised hip before being released.

Police said he was in collision with a car driven by Kenneth Irwin Cunningham, 214 Suzanne Place, at the intersection of Douglas and Bay.

Damage Slight

A total of seven accidents where damage was slight and injuries negligible occurred in the city Sunday between 2.10 a.m. and 11.18 p.m.

The other city accidents occurred Saturday afternoon and early today and were all minor in nature.

Police in both areas expressed grave concern over the outbreak and urged caution on drivers in view of the beginning of bad weather and poor road conditions.

Thieves Enter Lumber Yard

Two weekend break-ins were reported to city police today. A hacksaw, wrecking bar and $1 in pennies was missing from Saanich Lumber Yards, 3041 Douglas, by thieves who broke in and ransacked desks and an unlocked safe. A cigarette machine at the Victoria Curling Club, 1952 Quadra, was forced by thieves who got in by the rear doors and an undetermined amount of cash taken.

'Power-Equipped' Ferry Ready for Splash

The 1962 model B.C. government ferry, complete with "power steering" and "power brakes" will be unveiled here Tuesday.

Mv. City of Victoria will be launched from the ways at Victoria Machinery Depot at 2 p.m.—weather permitting—by Mrs. Percy Scurrah, the mayor's wife.

The $3,600,000 vessel will go into service on the Toll Authority's Swartz Bay-Trawassen run next February.

She will be joined in April by the fourth ferry in Premier

Bennett's "fleet," to be christened, Mv. City of Vancouver, under construction at Burrard Dry Dock Ltd.

VMD officials said the Victoria is "ready to go" but her launching could be postponed because of weather. If there is a heavy wind from the wrong direction the ceremony could be called off.

The Victoria is bigger and better than her sisters Sidney and Tsawwassen, which went into service June 15, 1960.

She weighs 3,108 tons, is 22 feet longer, at 342 feet, four

MISSION FROM MISSION ENDS IN DOUGLAS STREET COLLISION

Mrs. Dorothy Bayliss of Mission City travelled all the way to Victoria to see her daughter Evelyn receive a scholarship at Victoria College's assembly on Friday.

She never got there.

While Evelyn walked up to receive her award, her mother lay in St. Joseph's Hospital, victim of one of the rash of accidents that swept Victoria over the weekend.

Mrs. Bayliss was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, involved in a collision at the junction of the Trans-Canada Highway and Douglas Street Friday afternoon.

It was Mr. and Mrs. Bayliss' first visit to Victoria. The injured woman was released from hospital Saturday after receiving treatment for facial cuts.

Edgelow Pushes Woodward Deal

City council should move quickly to "re-activate" a proposal that would put up Victoria's third large department store on the present City Hall property, Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow said today.

He said it appeared likely the city would purchase the B.C. Hydro building—"If the price is right"—as a new civic headquarters.

"If that does happen, then we should be in a position to immediately try selling the present property so it would go on the tax roll," he said.

IN 1957

He was referring to a series of negotiations in 1957 when Woodward Stores Ltd. tried to buy the City Hall site and all property bounded by Pandora.

"Then you would really see the shoppers coming downtown."

"In addition, the City Hall now stands on prime commercial land and we should get it on the tax roll as soon as possible because it would bring in a considerable annual revenue to the city."

"For that reason I think we should sell it at a reasonable price and not try to hold anyone up if they will put up a major development."

After the flag has been raised by members of the UN Association of Victoria to mark the anniversary of the signing of the charter of the United Nations, it will be lowered to half mast in memory of the late secretary-general.

Jaycees Drop Plans to Buy Famed Trekka

Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce has decided not to proceed with plans to purchase the Victoria-built yawl Trekka in which John Guzzwell sailed around the world.

Trekka is up for sale in California but as a result of interest created in her in Victoria, skipper Guzzwell offered to return her to the city for $4,000.

Victoria Jaycees probed the matter but at a recent meeting of the executive decided to drop it.

"We felt Trekka is in too good a condition to be hauled ashore as a monument," a spokesman said.

TWO NOBEL AWARDS

Dag, Zulu Chief
Win Peace Prize

OSLO (UPI) — In two unprecedented moves, Nobel Peace Prizes were awarded today to the late Dag Hammarskjöld and to an African native chief who battled South Africa's white supremacy policies.

The Nobel prize committee of the Norwegian Parliament named Hammarskjöld for the 1961 peace award. It was the first time the coveted prize has been given posthumously.

The prize money for Hammarckjöld's award is equivalent to $50,045, and for Luthuli's to $45,190. The amount of the award is based on the annual income from the funds contributed for the award.

The Nobel Peace Prize committee gave no reason for its decisions to honor Hammarskjöld and Chief Luthuli, but it noted the latter's troubles with the South African government and the possibility he might

ST. GEORGE'S, Grenada (AP) — The Italian liner Bianca C. still blazed furiously today off this British West Indies port after an explosion and fire killed two crew members and sent 667 persons fleeing over the sides.

Lifeboats carried to safety 362 passengers—many of the women in their nightclothes—and 305 crew members. Eight of the crew were injured in the blaze, one seriously.

Officials gave up all hope of salvaging the 18,427-ton liner which was homeward bound for Genoa, Italy, after picking up passengers, mainly from Venezuela.

An engine room blast rocked the ship and set off the fire early Sunday while most of the passengers were still asleep.

TWO DIE

Second engineer Rodizza Natale was rescued but died later. A man working with him was killed. He was not immediately identified.

The liner had dropped anchor in St. George's harbor Saturday night about 1½ mile offshore to pick up 18 more passengers. It was the ship's last port of call on this side of the Atlantic.

The explosion brought the passengers rushing from their cabins. They had no time to collect any of their belongings. The evacuation into lifeboats went off smoothly in the calm Caribbean Sea.

The rescued passengers were put up in hotels and private homes on this tiny British island to await another Italian liner, the Sorrento, which set out from Venezuela to pick them up.

Giacomo Costa, owner of the Bianca C, said in Genoa the liner was insured at cost. Launched in France in 1949 as La Marseillaise, the ship was bought three years ago by Costa's line. She was recently refitted at a cost of about $4,000,000.

TRAGIC SHOPPING TRIP

Mother Killed,
Child Injured

(SEE ACCIDENT ROUNDUP PAGE 17)

A birthday shopping trip ended in tragedy Saturday evening for a mother of three and her youngest daughter.

Dead is Mrs. Edward Courtepatte, 43, of 2178 Rock Bay Avenue, and lying in Royal Jubilee Hospital in "fairly good condition" is six-year-old Kathleen with extensive head injuries.

Mother and daughter were returning from downtown when they were hit by a car at the intersection of Bay St. and Rock Bay Avenue.

Mrs. Courtepatte was carried 90 feet on the hood of the auto as Kathleen was brushed to the side of the road after the initial impact.

The mother was killed instantly, police said. Police said the car, driven by a juvenile whose name has not been released, was proceeding west on Bay towards Esquimalt. Measurements taken at the scene indicated it travelled 97 feet after the fatal impact.

Sunday was Kathleen's sixth birthday and her family had prepared a little party for her. It never took place.

Mr. Courtepatte said he believed his wife and step-daughter had just got off a bus before they were hit.

"I was worried when they did not come home for supper on time, and then the police came and told me."

Mr. Courtepatte had been living with Kathleen and her mother since they came to Victoria from Vancouver April 1.

Mrs. Courtepatte's first husband, James Norman Miranda, died just over a year ago.

In his green shingled house today, Mr. Courtepatte sat with his wife's eldest two daughters, Mrs. Leona Gold, 24, and Mrs. Gloria Point, 21, both of North Burnaby.

"Excuse me if I seem a little doped," he said gently, "but I am just getting over some shock pills that the doctor gave me."

"We were only together for a little while," he said, referring

Two Large
Blasts
Says Dief

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker said today that Russia set off two nuclear explosions—both larger than usual.

The prime minister made the statement to reporters when asked about press reports that a single Soviet test blast early today may have been the 50-megaton explosion forecast by Premier Khrushchev last week.

"There were two explosions," Mr. Diefenbaker replied. "There was no certainty that they were in fact 50-megatons." He said, however, that "they were larger than the usual ones."

Mr. Diefenbaker's statement was the first suggestion that there were two nuclear blasts by Russia during the night.

The prime minister said his statement was based on an analysis of information.

"My reaction... is one of

'Moderate'
Shock Here

A "moderate" surface shock wave was recorded at the Dominion Observatory here early this morning at approximately the time Russia's big H-bomb device was detonated.

A check of the observatory's seismograph equipment showed a 5.5-magnitude shock wave was registered at 58 minutes after midnight.

Hugh White, of the observatory's seismological department, said there was no way of determining the origin of the shock wave from the single reading here.

"Ordinarily, we would just have read it as an earthquake of moderate magnitude," he said.

"But it was a surface wave which you would expect to be associated with a big nuclear explosion and certainly that possibility cannot be ruled out."

"You would have to co-ordinate our reading with those in several other centres before you could say anything with certainty."

Swedes Say Reds
Confirm Big Bang

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Atomic Energy Commission reported the Soviet Union detonated two nuclear explosions today—one possibly as big as 50-megatons but more likely about 30-megatons.

It said the second was of low yield.

Both explosions were in the Novaya Zemlya area in the Arctic region.

The first explosion had been reported earlier by scientists in Sweden, France and Japan. They said it probably was the 50-megaton bomb promised by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

This would be the equivalent of explosion of 50,000,000 tons of TNT.

By comparison, the largest previous detonation by the Soviet Union has been estimated at 10 megatons.

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The Swedish news agency said tonight that Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, Soviet defence minister, confirmed that a 50-megaton nuclear bomb has been exploded over the Arctic.

The Moscow bureau of The Associated Press said it had no confirmation that Malinovsky had made such a statement.

A report from the Soviet news agency Tass on Malinovsky's speech today to the Soviet Communist party congress made no mention of such an explosion.

The Swedish observatory at Uppsala said the blast was believed to have occurred in the Novaya Zemlya—area of the Arctic Circle, 1,300 miles to the northeast in an area used for earlier Russian atomic experiments.

Dr. Arthur Baath of the Uppsala Seismological Institute said that "the possibility cannot be excluded that this explosion was the expected 50-megaton bomb."

Shock Waves Recorded Around Globe

He said it was "somewhat more than double the strength" of the biggest previous tests recorded during the Soviet test series.

The Danish Geodetic Institute described the blast as four times as big as the one on Oct. 6, when Russia exploded a device with a yield of several megatons in the atmosphere near Novaya Zemlya. A megaton is the equivalent of 1,000,000 tons of TNT.

The French Service for the Detection of Atomic Explosions described it as "an explosion of extreme power, far more powerful than those recorded so far."

In Holland, the Royal Netherlands Meteorological Institute said that it had recorded vibrations but described them as "clearly reminiscent of an earthquake."

The Japanese government's central meteorological agency

Hopes Columbia
Not Vote Issue

SPOKANE (AP) — A difference between the Canadian government and British Columbia over use of downstream power is holding up ratification of the International Columbia River Treaty in Canada, the chairman of the Canadian negotiations team said today.

Justice Minister Fulton, speaking to the Inland Empire Waterways Association, said the Canadian government is anxious to have the treaty formally ratified so that construction can start and water resources be developed jointly.

"The problem is that British Columbia wants to sell Canada's entitlements to downstream power on long-term basis to United States users," he said.

"This is not, in our opinion, the object of the treaty. We grant that in the initial stages, Canada will be entitled to more power than she can use, and we are most willing that such surpluses be disposed of in your country. However, we do not want to be bound to long-term agreements that could be detrimental to Canada's economic development."

Senator Warren G. Magnuson, Washington Democrat, who moderated the panel on "Development and Management of the Columbia River Water Resources," said he hoped the treaty did not become an issue in Canada's next federal election.

"We don't want such an important matter battered around as an election issue if MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet nuclear troops which are in constant readiness. "They are capable of inflicting a crushing defeat upon the aggressor," he added. Although the decisive role in any future war will belong to the rocket troops, he went on, "we believe that the final victory over the aggressor can be achieved only through joint action of all armed forces." Mr. Diefenbaker referred to the resolution now before the United Nations, seeking an end to the Russian tests.

"I hope the United Nations will vote in favor of this resolution and let the U.S.S.R. know in clear and unequivocal language how the world feels that innocent people should be required to suffer by reason of the stubbornness in continuing tests."

A POST-DATED CHEQUE

Mr. Courtepatte works at Moore-Whittington Lumber Co. Ltd. at 2614 Bridge St.

Aside from one passenger in the auto there were no eyewitnesses to the accident.

One of the first on the scene was Jack Papick, 546 Ellice, who said he was driving up Rock Bay when he saw the little girl lying at the intersection. All he could do was cover her up.

Helter-skelter through the intersection lay the tattered remains of the gay afternoon, the broken contents of the birthday shopping bag.

In her hospital room this morning Kathleen, who hasn't been told of her mother's death, lay on her bruised back and looked placidly at the ceiling, her rag dolls at her side.

As the nurse entered and smiled at her, Kathleen tried to smile back. But she couldn't. It hurt too much.

Police are investigating the accident, and the inquest date has not been set.

Hunters Trapped in Hills As Blizzard Hits Suddenly

BURLEY, Idaho (AP)—A fell said it was impossible to make an accurate count. More snow was forecast to day. Authorities planned air drops of food if the weather permitted. A low ceiling hampered aerial scouting and air drops Sunday.

Ground parties, using snow plows and heavy vehicles, worked around the clock.

Two or three thousand hunters, thronged to three game units south of Burley and Twin Falls Saturday.

The storm struck a few hours later, and continued most of Sunday.

A number of stalled vehicles were abandoned along snow-bound mountain roads as the owners slogged out on foot.

One hunter died of a heart attack and two others were reported missing south of Burley, where up to two feet of snow fell.

"It's hard to say just how many are still stranded," said police chief George E. Warrell of Burley. "A bunch of the hunters went back in Sunday and we can't figure out who's lost and who isn't."
